Letter of Transmittal

Treasury Department,
Office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue,
Washington, D.C., March 4, 1975.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

As required by section 6108 of the Internal Revenue Code, we are sending you the complete report, Statistics of Income—1971, Business Income Tax Returns. The report includes financial and economic data based on samples of returns of proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations with accounting periods ended July 1971 through June 1972.

Classification of the data by industry and measures of business size are regular features of this report. New topics this year include sources of income of proprietors by industry and of farm proprietors by size of nonfarm income, partnerships by year of organization, and partnerships and electing Small Business Corporations by accounting period. Balance sheet data for partnerships, which are compiled biennially, are also included in this issue.

Donald C. Alexander

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Hon. William E. Simon,
Secretary of the Treasury.

The financial and economic data in this report are estimates derived from the tax and information returns of 9.7 million proprietorships, 959 thousand partnerships, and 1.7 million corporations. The samples were designed to give complete coverage of these types of business returns for income year 1971, defined as comprising accounting periods ended from July 1971 through June 1972. Most of the data relate to calendar year 1971; the accounting period of almost all of the proprietorships, 90 percent of the partnerships, and nearly one-half of the corporations ended on December 31, 1971.

Table 1.1 shows business receipts and selected deductions for industries important in one or another of the corporate and noncorporate forms of business. The relative importance of the forms of business organization in each industrial division is illustrated in chart 1A. The items selected for presentation in this table are not strictly comparable for all the forms, but they are comparable enough for purposes of rough comparisons within an industry. Limitations of such comparisons are mentioned under the item headings in the "Explanation of Terms," in section 6 of this report.

Table 1.2, shows the three forms of business organization in one table classified by size of business receipts. Since this report focuses on small businesses, a number of size classes are shown for businesses with receipts of under $5 million, while those with receipts of $5 million or more are included in a single class. For more detail on this class of corporations, see Statistics of Income—1971, Corporation Income Tax Returns, which includes size-of-receipts classes of up to $1 billion or more.

(*) Estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in all "All industrial divisions" total.
 NOTE: Estimates for "Nature of business not allocable" are not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in all "All industrial divisions" total.
 For partnerships and corporations in "Finance, insurance, and real estate," total receipts rather than business receipts was tabulated in the column headed "Business receipts" and used as the size classifier.
 Estimates are rounded and may not add to totals. Some estimates may differ slightly from those in other tables due to differences in rounding procedures.

This section presents statistics for the single-owner businesses whose activities were reported to the Internal Revenue Service on the returns of individuals. These activities encompassed virtually the entire range of unincorporated, one-owner businesses, farms, and professional practices, from large enterprises with many employees and hired managers to the part-time operation in which the owner was the only person involved. For example, the owner of a fleet of taxicabs who conducted his business with the help of a large staff and the man who owned his own cab and drove it during his spare time to supplement the family income might both be "proprietorships" in the statistics. Excluded were proprietorship businesses reported on the returns of the fiduciary agents of estates and trusts. Very little business activity is involved; in 1970, the most recent year for which data are available, there were estimated to be 33 thousand fiduciary income tax returns with proprietorship data showing a gross profit of $537 million. In contrast, the estimates for proprietorships reported on individual income tax returns for 1970 were 9.4 million businesses showing gross profit of $104 billion.

The basis for inclusion in these statistics was that the proprietor must have filed an Individual Income Tax Return (Form 1040) including a business or farm schedule (schedule C or F) covering his farm, business, or professional practice. Proprietors filed returns, and were thus covered in these statistics, if they met the "gross income" requirements, if they met the requirements for the self-employment tax, or if they were due an income tax refund. Proprietors were required to file if they exceeded a specified lower limit of gross income, which was defined as income from all sources not specifically exempt from tax and including gross profit (net receipts less cost of goods sold) from mining, manufacturing, and trade proprietorships and net receipts from other proprietorship businesses. The gross income limit for filing was, for most proprietors, $1,700 for a single person or $2,300 for a married couple filing jointly, plus $600 for each exemption for age (65 years old or over). However, proprietors who were married with each spouse filing a separate return, who were nonresident aliens, who had excludable income from sources in U.S. possessions, or who were filing part-year returns were required to file if their gross income was $600 or more. Proprietors not meeting the gross income requirements were still required to file if they had $400 or more income from self-employment (generally, this meant $400 in trade or business profits). In addition, some proprietors filed returns even though not required, because they elected to pay self-employment tax on farm gross profit or because they were receiving a refund of taxes previously paid.

Generally, a proprietor corresponded to a "self-employed" person, though some persons considered self-employed under the Internal Revenue Code were excluded from these statistics, notably business partners and persons not actually engaged in a trade or business, such as public officials and clergymen.

The identification of a proprietor or proprietorship from tax returns was not always exact. Schedule C was sometimes used to report employee business expenses or partnership activity, and sometimes proprietorship activity was reported on other parts of the return. Such situations were adjusted for during statistical processing when they were identifiable; however, not all such conditions were identifiable, probably resulting in the incorrect inclusion of a small amount of non-proprietorship activity and the exclusion of some legitimate proprietorships. This problem with the method of reporting by the taxpayer particularly affected the industry, "Direct selling establishments," which in these statistics includes door-to-door selling and selling merchandise at parties in private homes if they were reported on schedule C or an identifiable substitute schedule.

Farm Landlords and Farm Operators

In table 2.1, farms are subdivided into "farm operators" and "farm landlords." This classification reflected a common method of renting farm land, the "crop share" arrangement. In this arrangement one person supplied the land and perhaps some operating capital and another person operated the farm, paying rent in shares of the resulting crop. For tax purposes, each reported his share of receipts from the sale of the crop and, if such was the arrangement, his share of the expenses. The operator always reported on the farm schedule, schedule F; the landlord used schedule F if he "materially participated" in the operation of the farm and the rent schedule, schedule E, if his role was purely passive.

In past reports, only landlords who filed schedule F were included in the farm statistics. Beginning with 1971, however, those who reported on schedule E were required to file a form similar to schedule F (Form 4835) to support their schedule E information, and in this report they are included in the farm statistics.

This change in reporting and tabulating resulted in an apparent increase in the number of farms in these statistics, accounting for at least part of the increase in the total number of proprietorship farms.

States and Metropolitan Areas

Table 2.4 shows proprietorship data classified by the State shown in the mailing address of the proprietor's return. This was usually the State where the proprietor lived, though a few proprietors used other addresses, such as business offices, the offices of the practitioners who prepared their returns, or post office boxes. With the limitations that a few proprietorship businesses were not located in the State the proprietor gave as his mailing address or operated in more than one State, the data in table 2.4 represent estimates of proprietorship business activity in each State.

Table 2.5 provides similar data for some selected "standard metropolitan statistical areas." The areas were selected from those defined by the Office of Management and Budget as of November 1971. The areas selected were those for which the sample used for the statistics yielded the most reliable industry results. As with the State data, classification was based on the mailing address of the proprietor and so does not necessarily reflect the location of the business. While the place of business, mailing address, and residence could all be different (as some taxpayers, for example, used the address of the person who prepared their return), this was an exception, and the data in table 2.5 represent the proprietorship business activity of persons residing in the indicated metropolitan area.

The sample of proprietors' returns was designed to yield national rather than area estimates, and stratification was by income size class rather than geographic area. However, for purposes of maximizing State and metropolitan area estimates, separate weights were computed by Internal Revenue district (which corresponded to either a State or a part of a State). While this modification in the weighting procedure improved the subnational estimates, it caused the U.S. totals in these tables to differ slightly from the U.S. totals in other tables.

Business and Nonbusiness Income

Table 2.7 shows data from the proprietors' Form 1040 individual income tax returns and their related business and farm schedules C and F, cross-classified by size of the adjusted gross income from the Form 1040 and the industrial activity shown on the schedules C and F.

Some proprietors owned two or more businesses in different industries, and this complicates the presentation of the data in table 2.7. Adjusted gross income, taxable income, and the other data Form 1040 for these proprietors were included in each industry in which they had a business, thus duplicating the return data from industry to industry. This made it difficult to construct "unduplicated" totals, and, for this reason, totals and subtotals are provided for only the "all industries" total, the industrial divisions, and "farms."

An "all industries" total containing no duplication of return data is given, but the components of adjusted gross income have a different meaning from the same figures in a particular industry. For an industry or an industrial division, "Other income" means all income included in adjusted gross income except for profits from businesses in that industry. For example, if a proprietor owned both a field crop farm and a grocery store, his return, his adjusted gross income, and his taxable income and tax would be included in the table three times. Under field crop farms and total farms, his "Other income" would include the profit (or loss) from his grocery store, and under grocery stores, his "Other income" would include the profit (or loss) from his field crop farm. In the "all industries" total, however, his return data are included only once, "Net profit less loss" includes the profits (or losses) from both his businesses, and "Other income" includes only nonbusiness income such as from investments or salaries.

There are many joint returns in table 2.7, which also creates difficulties in analyzing the data. If, for example, a joint return were filed by a husband who was the proprietor of a business and by a wife who worked, the return would be included in the data with the husband's business income and the couple's combined adjusted gross income. On the other hand, if the same couple had filed separate returns, only the husband's adjusted gross income would have been included.

Sources of Proprietors' Income

Table 2.8 provides selected sources of the nonbusiness income of proprietors in each industry. Like table 2.7, this table contains duplicated return data for proprietors owning businesses in more than one industry; this duplication was eliminated in constructing the totals shown in the table, but other parts of the table cannot be summed. The components of adjusted gross income do not add to the total because payments to self-employed retirement plans is the only "adjustment" to gross income used in arriving at "adjusted" gross income shown.

Table 2.9 shows sources of income of farm proprietors cross-classified by size of farm net profit or loss and size of non-farm adjusted gross income. This table is designed to show the relationship of farm profit (or loss) to income shown on the return from sources other than farming. It covers not only those taxpayers whose farm losses offset nonfarm income, but also those farmers who must supplement their farm income with outside sources (including the spouses' income on joint returns). "Farm net profit" in table 2.9 is the net sum of the profits and losses from all farm schedules filed with the return.

Chart 2A summarizes some of the detail from table 2.8 for proprietors in some of the larger or more profitable industries.

(*) Estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

¹This is the standard deviation of the estimate expressed as a percent of the estimate. The standard deviation, when added to and subtracted from the estimate in columns 1 through 7 to which it refers, gives the range within which approximately two out of three such estimates from similar samples would be expected to fall.

²Less than .05 percent.

³Loss exceeds profit.

NOTE: See text for explanatory statements and a description of the "Sample Design and Limitations."

(*) Estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

Net loss exceeds net profit.

NOTE: The following industry classes are not shown separately because of high sampling variability but are included in the appropriate totals:

PART I - "Mining," "Other general contractors," "Contractors not allocable," "Wholesale and retail trade not allocable," and "Finance."

PART II - "Mining," "Contractors not allocable," "Other transportation, communication, electric, gas, and sanitary services," "Wholesale and retail trade not allocable," and "Nature of business not allocable."

PART III - "Agriculture, forestry, and fishery," "Mining," "Manufacturing," "Transportation, communication, electric, gas, and sanitary services," "Wholesale and retail trade not allocable," and "Nature of business not allocable."

(*) Estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

Net loss exceeds net profit.

NOTE: The estimates for "Other agriculture, forestry, and fishery," "Mining," "Other contractors," "Manufacturing," "Transportation, communication, electric, gas, and sanitary services," "Wholesale and retail trade not allocable," and "Nature of business not allocable" are not shown separately because of high sampling variability; however, they are included in the appropriate totals.

See text for explanatory statements and a description of the "Sample Design and Limitations."

(*) Estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability; however, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

1. Not shown because of duplication on returns with more than one business.

2. Loss exceeds profit or income.

NOTE: See text for explanatory statements and a description of the "Sample Design and Limitations."

Number and net profit (less loss) by year of organization

The statistics in this section cover partnerships, joint ventures, syndicates, groups, pools, and most other associations of two or more persons organized for profit that were not specifically classified by the Internal Revenue Code as corporations. Partnerships were not taxable as such; the partners, who could be individuals, estates, trusts, other partnerships, or corporations, reported their shares of the groups' taxable incomes (or losses) as a part of their own income.

Not all partnership business activity is represented in these statistics. If there were special agreements among the partners to allocate certain of the income or expenses in ways not proportionate to their share interests, these income or expense items were not reported as a part of the partnerships income statement. They were reportable only on the partners' returns and thus are not included here. In addition, the parties involved in joint production, extraction, investing, or use agreements that did not involve the active conduct of complete business operations could elect, under Code section 761, not to be considered a partnership. The partners in such an agreement reported their share of the business income and deductions on their own returns, and no return was filed for the group. The actual extent of these business activities is not known; however, for petroleum exploration and production, it is believed to be significant.

Balance Sheet Data

Asset and liability information for those partnerships with balance sheets is shown in table 3.6 classified by selected industry and in table 3.7 classified by size of total assets. Partnerships classified as having balance sheets include those reporting zero assets because they had liquidated. Only about 63 percent of all partnerships are covered in these tables; the remainder failed to include balance sheets on their returns.

Partnership balance sheet data are normally published every two years in this series and were last published for 1969.

Year of Organization

Chart 3A shows the number of partnerships and their net profit (less loss) by year of organization, derived from table 3.7. The few part-year returns of partnerships organized in 1972 included in table 3.7 were omitted from the chart, as were years prior to 1960, since the data for these years are not presented on an annual basis in the table.

(*) Estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

¹ This is the standard deviation of the estimate expressed as a percent of the estimate. The standard deviation, when added to and subtracted from the estimate in columns 1 and 3 through 8 to which it refers, gives the range within which approximately two out of three such estimates from similar samples would be expected to fall.

² Less than .05 percent.

³ Loss exceeds profit.

NOTE: See text for explanatory statements and a description of the "Sample Design and Limitations". Columns 3 and 10 refer to Total receipts for industries in Finance, Insurance, and real estate and Business receipts for all other industries.

(*) Estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

Loss exceeds profit.

NOTE: Estimates for "Contractors not allocable" and "Wholesale and retail trade not allocable" are not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

For "Finance, insurance, and real estate," data are distributed by size of "Total receipts" rather than "Business receipts."

See text for explanatory statements and a description of the "Sample Design and Limitations."

Small Business Corporation returns, Form 1120S, were filed by incorporated businesses electing under Code section 1372 to be taxed through the shareholders rather than as corporations. Data for these special types of corporations are shown separately in the tables in this section and are also included in the tables for "all" corporations in section 5.

The election to file as a Small Business Corporation was subject to several limitations. The corporation had to be a domestic corporation earning at least 80 percent of its gross receipts from domestic sources. Generally no more than 20 percent of its gross receipts could come from investment-type income. The company must not have been eligible to file a consolidated return, which meant, in general, that it must not have owned even indirectly 80 percent or more of the stock of another domestic corporation; and it must not have had more than one class of stock outstanding. There could not be more than 10 shareholders at one time, and all of the shareholders had to be individuals (or estates) who were not nonresident aliens.

Having met these conditions, the corporation made the election and filed a Form 1120S return reporting its receipts, deductions, and net income or deficit. The shareholders then reported their share of the net income or deficit on their individual returns. The corporation itself paid no tax, except, in certain circumstances, a tax on long-term capital gains.

Accounting Periods

Chart 4A shows the distribution of the business receipts of full-year Small Business Corporations by accounting period. The chart is drawn as though receipts were evenly distributed throughout the accounting period; the actual timing of the receipts is not reported on tax returns.

NOTE: "Wholesale and retail trade not allocable," "Banking," "Security and commodity brokers, dealers, exchanges, and services," "Insurance carriers," and "Nature of business not allocable" are not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals. Estimates are rounded and may not add to totals. See text for explanatory statements and a description of the "Sample Design and Limitations."

An association organized to conduct business for profit and having the predominant characteristics of a corporation was required to file a corporation income tax return. Most such associations were incorporated under State law and characterized by limited liability of the owners, continuity of life, centralized management, and free transferability of interest.

However, certain kinds of associations, some of which were not incorporated under State law, were treated as corporations for tax purposes. Some of these were specifically provided for in the Code (real estate investment trusts or insurance companies, for example); others were classified as corporations under the Income Tax Regulations because they had a "preponderance" of the corporate characteristics mentioned above. If an association organized for profit was not considered a corporation, it was usually classified as a partnership for filing purposes.

The statistics in this section from the returns of corporations are included in this report only to complete the picture of total U.S. business activity. The primary Statistics of Income source of corporate data is the report, Statistics of Income—Corporation Income Tax Returns.

Deficit exceeds net income.

NOTE: Estimates are rounded and may not add to totals.
"Sugar manufacturing," "Walt, liquor and malt manufacturing," "Chemicals and allied products not allocable," "Petroleum refining," "Metal cans," "Watches and clocks," and "Pipeline transportation" are not shown separately because of high sampling variability; however, the data are included in the appropriate totals.
See text for explanatory statements and a description of the "Sample Design and Limitations."

Changes in Law

The following are major law changes affecting the statistics in this report.

Investment credit restored

The tax credit for investment in certain depreciable business property was restored for property acquired after August 15, 1971, or ordered after March 21, 1971. Eligible property was tangible depreciable property, other than buildings and their structural components, with a useful life of 3 years or more. It covered primarily machinery and equipment, but it also included livestock other than horses, and assets accessory to a business, such as store counters. The amount of the investment qualifying for the credit depended on the useful life of the property. If the property had a useful life of 7 years or more, the entire investment qualified; if its life was 5 to 7 years, two-thirds qualified; if 3 to 5 years, one-third qualified. The actual credit allowed was 7 percent (4 percent for public utility property) of "qualified investment," limited to $25,000 plus 50 percent of the excess of tax liability over $25,000.

Class Life Asset Depreciation Range System Instituted

Beginning with 1971, a new elective system of accounting for depreciation for tax purposes was instituted. Under this system, assets of the same type acquired in the same year were grouped into one or more closed-end "vintage" accounts and the accounts were assigned useful lives chosen from a range of published useful lives. The range of useful lives was generally from 20 percent longer to 20 percent shorter than the industry-grouped "guideline lives" established under the previous rules; but the Treasury Department could modify the guideline lives in the future based on studies of actual replacement procedures. The only allowable depreciation methods under the system were the straight line, declining balance, and sum of the years-digits methods. Salvage value was not to be taken into account in computing depreciation, but no "vintage" account could be depreciated below a reasonable salvage value.

The system also included a provision for accounting for repairs of property placed in a "vintage" account. Taxpayers could elect to deduct currently expenditures for repairs, maintenance, rehabilitation, or improvement up to a specified amount (repair allowance) for each account, with any excess being capitalized in its own "vintage" account and depreciated.

Almond grove development expenses capitalized

Expenses for developing almond groves were given the same treatment as those for citrus groves for taxable years beginning after January 12, 1971. Expenses incurred for the planting, cultivation, maintenance, or development of almond groves before the close of the fourth taxable year beginning with the year in which the trees were planted had to be included in the cost of the groves and depreciated after the groves began producing instead of being deducted currently as farm expenses. This applied to trees planted on or after December 30, 1970.

Amortization of on-the-job training and child care facilities allowed

Capital expenditures made after December 31, 1971, for tangible depreciable property used for on-the-job training of employees and prospective employees or as a child-care center for the children of employees could be amortized over a 60-month period in lieu of being depreciated over a longer period.

Industrial Classification

In the tables in this report, businesses have been classified by the industrial activity from which they derived the largest share of their receipts. Every business return or schedule in the samples was assigned to a single industry class, even though receipts may have been from several different types of activities. The industry classes used were based on the Office of Management and Budget's Standard Industrial Classification Manuals, modified where necessary to fit the information available from tax returns for identifying industries.

Returns and schedules in the statistical samples were examined during statistical processing, and each was assigned a code classifying it by industry. In determining the code, the description of the business activity given by the taxpayer (and, for partnerships or corporations, the taxpayer-assigned code), the sources of the taxpayer's income, the nature of his expenses, and, where necessary, information from various reference books were considered.

The fact that a reporting entity was in all cases assigned to a single industry class constitutes a limitation of these data. In the case of proprietorships, a code to identify type of industrial activity was assigned to each business and farm schedule attached to an individual income tax return. Since individual taxpayers normally filed a separate schedule for each separate business activity, and each such schedule was assigned to its own industry class, the limitation is not serious for proprietorships. It was more common, but still relatively rare, for partnerships to be extensively engaged in more than one type of business activity; however, it did occur, especially on the returns of larger partnerships, so there are some data in the partnership industry classes that are not really related to that industrial activity. For corporations, the entity coded may have been a single corporation engaged in only one activity, a single corporation engaged in many different types of business activities, or a group of corporations, each with different business activities, filing together on a consolidated return. Since these corporations having many different activities tended to be very large and therefore to dominate the statistics in the industries in which they were classified, the industry statistics for corporations should be used only with this limitation in mind.

The Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manuals, which served as the bases for the industry classification systems in this report, were issued in two versions, the 1967 Establishment SIC Manual and the 1968 Enterprise SIC Manual (which was an "interim" revision of the 1963 Enterprise Manual). For unincorporated businesses, where the single-establishment business was the rule, the industry classes in this report were taken from the 1967 Establishment Manual. For corporations, the Enterprise Manual was the basis. In both systems, the SIC industry classes were sometimes consolidated or modified because the information available from tax returns for determining industrial activity was limited and because not every industry was well represented in the statistical samples. Most industry classes used in this report are equivalent to either the two, three, or four-digit industry level in the corresponding SIC system. However, a few classes in the unincorporated area represent a more detailed classification than the four-digit level of the SIC. (For example, the SIC class, "Arrangement of transportation" is divided into two classes for unincorporated businesses in this report.) A few corporate industries in the finance area (for example, "small business investment companies") were based on special provisions of tax law rather than on the SIC system. In all areas, where data for some SIC industries were of publishable quality and data for others were not, the residual unpublished industries were for most tables aggregated to form groups that are not directly comparable to SIC industries. One can usually determine equivalent SIC industries by comparing the SIC titles with the titles of the industries shown in the tables in this report. For equivalent industry classes, the SIC manuals will give a detailed description of the content of the classes.

In the Establishment and Enterprise SIC systems, the level of detail is not identical for all industries. Generally, the Establishment SIC is the more detailed, and frequently several four-digit Establishment codes are combined into one four-digit Enterprise code. This difference accounts for part of the difference between the corporate and noncorporate industry classes in the tables in Sections 2 through 5, above. In addition, since the forms of organization are not equally represented in the samples for an industry, the classes were frequently consolidated to different levels for the different forms. For example, proprietorships and partnerships, relatively rare in manufacturing industries, were coded for "Manufacturing Food and Kindred Products" (two-digit SIC level), while corporations in this two-digit group were classified into eight more-detailed (generally three or four-digit level) groups.

Explanation of Terms

This section contains brief descriptions of most of the terms appearing in the tables in this report. Minor items and self-evident or commonly understood terms are not included here. The instructions for the tax forms in section 8 of this report will provide additional information about many items.

Explanations of terms are designed to aid in understanding the statistical content of this report and should not be construed as interpretations of the Internal Revenue Code or related regulations, procedures, or policies. Code sections cited are those which were in effect during the period covered by this report.

Active businesses

An "active" business was defined as one reporting at least one item of income or deductions. The statistics in this report are from the returns and schedules of active businesses only. Partnerships and corporations organized or incorporated in the United States had to file returns even if they had no business activity during the year; however, such returns having no items of income or deductions were excluded from all tables except the sample count tables in section 7. Proprietorships only filed business or farm schedules if they had business activity, so there are no inactive proprietorships in any table.

Adjusted gross income

This amount was the result of reducing gross income from all sources subject to tax by adjustments such as the following:

- (1) Ordinary and necessary expenses of operating a trade or business,
- (2) Employee business and moving expenses,
- (3) Expense deductions attributable to rents and royalties,
- (4) Expenses of outside salesmen attributable to earning a salary, commission, or other compensation,
- (5) Depreciation and depletion allowed life tenants and income beneficiaries of property held in trust,
- (6) Exclusion of allowable sick pay if the sick pay was included in gross salary,
- (7) Deductible losses from sales of capital assets and other property,

(8) Deductible half of the excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital losses,

(9) Contributions to a retirement fund by the self-employed.

A deficit adjusted gross income occurred when the allowable deductions or losses exceeded gross income.

Nonfarm adjusted gross income (used in table 2.9 to classify returns of farm proprietors) was adjusted gross income computed without regard to farm income or expenses. It was computed for the table as the algebraic sum of adjusted gross income minus adjusted gross deficit minus farm net profit plus farm net loss.

Advertising

This deduction was separately identified only on the corporation income tax form. Advertising costs for corporations consisted of the reported business deduction and any identifiable amount of advertising reported as a cost of sales or of operations.

Amortization

Amortization was a deduction for deferred expenses written off during the year. The following types of amortization were specifically mentioned in the Code as allowable deductions:

- bond premiums (section 171)
- child care facilities (section 188)
- coal mine safety equipment (section 187)
- defense emergency facilities (section 168)
- leasee's improvements to leased property (section 178)
- on-the-job training facilities (section 188)
- organization expenditures of corporations (section 248)
- pollution control facilities (section 169)
- railroad rolling stock (section 184)
- railroad tunnel bores and grading (section 185)
- research and experimental expenditures (section 174(b))
- trademark and trade name expenditures (section 177)

Of these, amortization of leasehold improvements was frequently included in depreciation and amortization of bond premiums was often shown as part of "other deductions." Write-offs of patents, copyrights, and other intangibles were usually included in depreciation.

Bad debts

Bad debts occurring during the year or a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts was allowable as a deduction under section 166 of the Code.

Recoveries of bad debts previously deducted by taxpayers who used the reserve method were netted against the year's bad debt deduction; recoveries by taxpayers deducting actual bad debts were included in income.

Business receipts

Business receipts were, in general, gross receipts from sales and operations reduced by the cost of returned goods and allowances. They may have included excise taxes which were included in the sales price of the product; some taxpayers reported receipts this way and deducted the taxes as expenses, while others reported their receipts after adjustment for any taxes.

For proprietorships, business receipts were all income from the operation of the business, including incidental income from such things as sale of scrap or cash rebates that corporations and partnerships generally included in "other receipts." Dividends, interests, rents, royalties, and other investment-type income were generally not included in proprietorship receipts, though rents or interest that were actually income from business operations were sometimes included, for example, rents received by real estate operators and interest received by small-loan companies.

For partnerships, business receipts were, generally, the income from the company's principal business activities. Rents earned in addition to the company's principal income and interest, royalties, and nonqualifying dividends were generally shown as separate items. Incidental income, such as cash discounts or recoveries of taxes or bad debts previously deducted, was usually shown as "other receipts."

For corporations, business receipts were the income from the company's business operations. Investment income was shown in the separate categories for dividends, interest, rents, royalties, and gains from the sale of property, even if it was the principal source of income. However, when rent was actually operating income, as, for example, for hotels, real estate operators, public utilities, or manufacturers who rented rather than sold their products, the rental income was included in business receipts. In the finance area, where interest was usually the principal income, business receipts included only such operating income as service charges, box rentals, commissions, and fees. For insurance companies, business receipts were insurance premiums earned. (Mutual insurance companies with less than $500,000 in total receipts were not required to report premiums, so business receipts in the insurance area are slightly understated.)

Returns filed by corporate and partnership security dealers and corporate real estate developers were given special treatment in statistical processing. Sales of securities or real estate were netted against the cost of these "goods" and only the net amount was shown in the statistics. For partnerships, the net gain was shown as business receipts; for corporations, it was shown as gain from the sale of noncapital assets. Since it was usually not possible to separate sales of securities or real estate from other sources of receipts, such as commissions or construction activities, an arbitrary rule was used for corporations and partnerships in the specified industries; if cost of goods sold was 50 percent or more of business receipts, costs were subtracted from receipts and the difference was used as business receipts (for partnerships) or gain from the sale of noncapital assets (for corporations). No such adjustments were made for proprietorships in these industries, and receipts and cost of goods sold were shown in the tables as the taxpayers reported them.

Business receipts from farming were understated for all forms of business, because they did not include receipts from the sale of livestock held for draft, breeding, dairy, or sporting purposes. Income from the sale of such cattle and horses held for at least two years and other livestock (except poultry) held for at least one year was reported as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of property rather than as business receipts. See "capital gains," below.

Capital gains

Gains from sales of capital assets appear in the corporation tables as two income items, "Net long-term capital gain reduced by net short-term capital loss" and "Net short-term capital gain reduced by net long-term capital loss." For noncorporate businesses, these items were not included in business income; partners reported their share of partnership long-term and short-term gains on their own returns, and proprietors reported them on the nonbusiness schedules of their individual returns. Partnership capital gains do not appear in this report at all; the portion of proprietors' gains and losses used in computing taxable income are shown as nonbusiness income in two tables under the heading, "Net gain (less loss) from the sales of capital assets."

The tax treatment of capital gains and losses depended on whether they were "long-term" or "short-term" and differed somewhat for corporations and individuals. Capital gains and losses were long-term if the capital asset had been held for more than 6 months and short-term if it had been held for 6 months or less.

Short-term gain was includable in the taxable income of either corporations or individuals as ordinary income, but long-term gain received special treatment, in that the maximum tax rate was lower than for ordinary income and, for individuals, in that only one-half of it was included in adjusted gross income. Capital losses were deducted first from capital gains of the same type (e.g., short-term gains and losses were netted); any remaining loss was then deducted from gains of the other type (e.g., the excess of short-term losses over gains was netted against the excess of long-term gains over losses). For corporations, any loss still remaining was carried over to be deducted from capital gains in another year; for individuals, any remaining short-term loss or 50 percent of any remaining long-term loss could be deducted (up to a maximum of $1,000) in computing taxable income, with any remaining excess carried over to be deducted in another year.

"Capital assets" were defined in Code section 1221 as any property held by the taxpayer except: (1) stock-in-trade, receivables, or depreciable or real property used in or arising from trade or business; (2) copyrights, literary, artistic and musical compositions, and letters or similar property, unless purchased by the taxpayer; and (3) discounted Government bonds maturing in 1 year or less.

Long-term capital gain could also result from the disposal of certain noncapital assets under the special provisions of Code section 1231. Much of the net gain from the sale of depreciable property and real estate used in trade or business and held for more than 6 months, livestock (except poultry) held for draft, breeding, dairy, or sporting purposes for 12 months or more (24 months or more for cattle and horses), and unharvested crops sold with the land, and gain from the disposal of certain standing timber, coal, and iron ore, were treated as long-term capital gain. (Net losses from the disposal of these types of property were treated as ordinary losses, that is, they were deductible from ordinary income in computing taxable income.) There were limitations on the amount of gain from the sale of depreciable property and farm property that could be treated as capital gains; the purpose of these limitations (which are detailed in Code sections 1245, 1250, 1251, and 1252) was to deny the capital gains treatment to gains resulting from other provisions of the Code, specifically rapid depreciation and amortization, and the offsetting of nonfarm income with farm losses.

Contributions

Contributions or gifts to charitable, religious, educational, and similar organizations were deductible, with certain legal limitations, in the computation of income of corporations. For proprietorships and partnerships, this was not allowed as a business deduction.

Cost of depreciable property

Cost of depreciable property for tax purposes was shown in the statistics only for proprietorships. It was generally the cost at the end of the year. It was taken from the depreciation schedule on schedule C or schedule F of Form 1040. Since the cost was only for property used in the proprietorship businesses, the cost of property held for the production of income reported on schedule E (rents and royalties) was excluded.

The cost of depreciable property for proprietorships was the cost of tangible property (such as buildings and equipment) and cost of the intangible assets (such as patents and copyrights) on which depreciation was allowed. The data included cost of property without regard to salvage value, but they were edited in statistical processing when possible to exclude the cost of fully depreciated property. Cost was excluded when the taxpayer did not show gross depreciable assets before subtracting accumulated depreciation or showed only partial cost of the property.

The cost of depreciable property for proprietorships was similar to, but not identical with, the balance sheet account, "depreciable assets," reported by corporations and partnerships. Balance sheet accounts reflected the value of depreciable assets reported in the books of account, while cost of depreciable property was the cost of that property on which depreciation was allowable for tax purposes.

Cost of labor

The cost of labor, tabulated for proprietorships and partnerships, was a component of cost of sales and operations. For proprietorships in nonfarm industries it represented the amount reported on line 4, page 1 of schedule C, Form 1040. For proprietors and partnerships engaged in farming that used schedule F, which did not contain a cost of sales and operations schedule as such, it represented the amount reported on page 1, part II, item 29, "labor hired." For nonfarm partnerships, it was the amount reported in schedule A, line 29 on page 1 of Form 1065. (See "Payroll.")

Cost of sales and operations

If the receipts of the business included income from the sale of merchandise, cost of goods sold generally included the direct cost of that merchandise. In this sense it included goods purchased for resale (including inventory change) in trade industries, and raw materials, supplies, labor, and other direct costs in agriculture, mining, manufacturing, and other industries whose principal activity was producing goods.

If the receipts of the business were from the sale of services rather than goods, the corresponding figure for cost of operations was not always comparable for the three types of businesses. For corporations and partnerships, cost of operations generally included labor costs, supplies, rental of machinery and equipment, and other direct costs of producing the services. As can be seen from the statistics, however, many partnerships and most proprietorships did not report cost of operations as completely as did corporations, allocating the costs to the expense items rather than to cost of operations.

Farm costs for proprietorships and partnerships presented special problems because the schedule used did not provide for a cost of goods sold computation. The cost of goods sold statistics presented here for unincorporated farms were constructed from the expense schedules during statistical processing. See the discussions in this section under "Merchandise purchased," "Cost of labor," "Material and Supplies," and "Other costs."

For all types of businesses, certain deduction items which might sometimes be considered direct costs were never included in cost of goods sold (or cost of operations) if they could be identified. If taxpayers reported them there, they were removed during statistical processing and transferred to the appropriate deduction line. Transferred were all identifiable amounts of depreciation, depletion, amortization, taxes, and contributions to employee pension and other benefit plans. Advertising and rental of real property were also transferred for corporations.

Statistical adjustments to cost of goods sold made for corporate and partnership security dealers and corporate real estate developers are explained in "Business receipts."

Depletable assets

Depletable assets and accumulated depletion, reported on the balance sheet, are presented in this report for partnerships. In general, depletable assets represented the gross value of mineral property, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits, standing timber, intangible development and drilling costs capitalized, and leases and leaseholds, each subject to depletion. Accumulated depletion represented the cumulative adjustment to these assets shown on the books of account.

The value of depletable assets and accumulated depletion may not be closely related to the current-year depletion deduction. The balance sheet accounts reflected book values; the depletion deduction reflected the amount claimed for tax purposes.

Depletion

Depletion, a deduction allowable for the exhaustion of natural deposits or timber, could be based on cost, or, for natural deposits, on a fixed percentage of gross income, less rents and royalties paid, from the depletable property. For oil and gas wells, gross income was computed on the value of the product at the well-head. For depletable property other than oil and gas wells, "gross income" included not only the value of the mineral extracted from the property but also the value added by some transportation of the mineral and certain "treatment processes considered as mining" (Code section 613(c)).

Percentage depletion, though based on percentages of gross income from the depletable property, was limited. It could not exceed 50 percent of the taxable income from the property, computed without the depletion deduction. The percentage depletion rates for each type of deposit were listed in Code section 613 and ranged from 5 to 22 percent.

The statistics include any identifiable depletion reported as a cost of sales and operations.

Depreciable assets

Depreciable assets, reported in the balance sheet, consisted of tangible property (such as buildings and equipment) which was used in the trade or business or held for the production of income and which had a useful life of one year or more. The statistics for depreciable assets exclude intangible assets. The amounts shown as accumulated depreciation represent the portion of the assets that were written off in the current year as well as in prior years.

The statistics for this item include Government-certified emergency facilities which were eligible for five-year amortization in lieu of regular depreciation. Also included, when reported in the balance sheet as depreciable, were fully depreciated assets and partially completed assets for which no deduction was allowable.

The amounts shown in the statistics are, in general, the gross amounts before adjustments for depreciation charged in current and prior years. Some businesses, however, reported only the net amount of depreciable assets after adjusting for these depreciation charges.

In relating depreciable assets and accumulated depreciation to the current-year depreciation deduction shown in this report, it should be noted that the balance sheet accounts reflected amounts reported in the books of account, while the deductions were those claimed for tax purposes based on methods of computation and useful lives of assets which may have varied for book accounting and tax accounting purposes.

Depreciation

The deduction for depreciation permitted a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of business property in cases where the estimated useful life of the property exceeded one year. The purpose was to enable businesses to recover the cost or other basis of depreciable property by allocating the cost of the property over its estimated useful life. A deduction for depreciation was not allowable on inventories, or land apart from the physical improvements or developments to it.

Several methods of computation could have been used in determining the deduction for the year. The most common method was straight-line, whereby an equal amount is deducted in each year of the useful life of the asset. The declining balance and the sum of the years-digits methods, whereby a larger portion of the asset's cost is written off during the earlier years of its life than during its later years, were also commonly used. These latter methods were specifically authorized by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and were generally permissible in the case of assets acquired after December 31, 1953. Standard useful lives, based on grouping assets according to the industrial activities in which they were used, were issued in 1962 as guidelines for establishing the "reasonableness" of the depreciation deduction. These "guideline lives" were modified for 1971 under the "class life asset depreciation range" system; see "Changes in Law," above.

Amounts shown as depreciation include any identifiable depreciation reported as an operating or manufacturing cost. Also included in the statistics are amounts deducted on leasehold improvements, patents, and copyrights. Additional first-year (section 179) depreciation was included in the statistics for proprietorships and corporations, but for partnerships it was allocated to the partners for reporting on their own returns.

Distributions to stockholders

This was the amount paid to the company's stockholders out of earnings and profits, generally in cash but also in stock or, occasionally, in other kinds of property. When the corporation did not identify the type of distribution, it was assumed to have been paid in cash.

These figures include actual distributions made by Small Business Corporations electing to be taxed through their shareholders, but they do not include amounts of net income taxed through the shareholders but not actually distributed. Liquidating payments and other returns of capital were also excluded.

Dividends

Dividends received from domestic and foreign corporations were components of corporate income, but generally not of partnership or proprietorship income. All dividends received by proprietors and dividends which qualified for the dividend exclusion received by partners were reported on their individual income tax returns, as a part of their nonbusiness income. (See the explanations below for "Dividends in adjusted gross income" and "Nonqualifying dividends.")

In a corporate income statement, dividends received from domestic corporations were distinguished from those received from foreign corporations. While the full amount was reported in arriving at net income, most domestic as well as those foreign dividends deemed earned in the United States (by resident foreign corporations) were recognized in computing the special deduction from net income for intercorporate dividends received. Domestic dividends not qualifying for the deduction were treated as "other receipts."

Dividends in adjusted gross income

This source of proprietors' nonbusiness income was gross dividends less the dividend exclusion.

Gross dividends consisted of: (1) dividends eligible for the exclusion received from domestic corporations either directly by the proprietor or indirectly through partnerships, estates, and trusts, and (2) dividends from foreign corporations, China Trade Act corporations, tax-exempt farmers' cooperatives, real estate investment trusts, and corporations doing most of their business in U.S. possessions, all of which were not eligible for the exclusion. Not included were: (1) capital gain distributions from regulated investment companies and real estate investment trusts, which were treated as long-term capital gains, and (2) so-called dividends from mutual savings institutions, which were included in interest, and (3) patronage dividends from cooperatives, which were included in other nonbusiness income or, if business related, in business receipts.

Taxpayers could exclude up to $100 of domestic dividends from adjusted gross income. On joint returns, the maximum exclusion was $200 if both husband and wife had eligible dividends, each excluding up to $100 of his respective dividend income.

Employee benefit programs

Contributions by employers to employee benefit plans other than deferred compensation plans were deductible under Code Section 162 for all forms of business organizations. These plans included such things as hospitalization, health and accident insurance, group life insurance, and other employee welfare plans.

In previous years, this item was shown separately only on the corporation return form; for unincorporated businesses, it was included in "Other deductions."

Contributions to retirement and other deferred compensation plans deductible under Code Section 404 were included in "Retirement Plans."

Farm net profit (or loss), partnership returns

Farm net profit is shown in the partnership tables as an item of income, and farm net loss is shown as a deduction, for those partnerships not reporting the detail of income and expenses from farming. If a schedule F, Form 1040, was attached supporting the amount reported as farm net profit or loss, the components were combined during statistical processing with the equivalent income and deduction items shown on Form 1065. For example, "rent of farm or pasture" was combined with the deduction item, "Rents paid." If no supporting schedule was attached, the net amounts were shown as farm net profit or loss. The detail was reported by most farm partnerships, so the amount shown in the tables is a residual representing only a small portion of partnership farming activity.

Income (or loss) from other partnerships, syndicates, etc.

This is the partnership's share of the profits (whether received or not) or losses of another partnership, except the partnership's distributive share of another partnership's capital gains or losses.

Income tax

The income tax shown in proprietorship tables was the proprietors' total income tax liability for the year, after being reduced by any credits, including the investment, retirement income, and foreign tax credits. The liability was based on the proprietors' income from all sources and so was not directly related to the profits or losses from his proprietorship business. The income tax figure does not include the Social Security self-employment tax.

The figure shown for corporations is "income tax after investment credit." This was the corporation's total income tax liability, including any tax from recomputing prior-year investment credit and any additional tax for tax preferences, less any investment credit. It does not include Personal Holding Company tax, and it is not reduced by the credit for foreign taxes paid.

The tax from recomputing prior year investment credit resulted when a taxpayer disposed of depreciable property on which he had previously taken an investment credit before its allotted life had passed. A proportionate amount of the credit previously deducted from tax had to be added back to tax in the year of disposition. This tax and the additional tax for tax preferences could occur even on a return showing a net deficit, so not all "income tax" in table 5.2 is associated with returns with net income.

The income tax figures in this report are generally the liability as reported on returns at the time of filing. Any adjustments resulting from audit and other events occurring after filing are not reflected.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets were reported separately on the balance sheet if they were amortizable. Other intangible assets, not amortizable, were included with "other assets." Intangible assets could be amortized for income tax purposes only if they had a definite life and value. Accumulated amortization represented the cumulative adjustment to intangible assets shown on the books of accounts.

Interest on Government obligations

Interest received on Government obligations was identified separately only for corporations. Amounts paid by the United States or its instrumentalities on or after March 1, 1941, were wholly taxable.

Interest on obligations of a State, United States possession, or their political subdivisions or of the District of Columbia was wholly tax-exempt.

Interest, other

Other interest consisted of amounts received by corporations from all sources except Government obligations.

Interest paid

Interest paid in connection with business indebtedness was deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense. Included in the statistics was interest paid on deposits and withdrawal shares by banking and savings institutions. Also included were amounts paid by partnerships to a partner, acting in other than his capacity as a partner, for the use of capital.

Interest received

This item for partnerships included interest received by the business from all sources except interest wholly tax-exempt and interest on tax-free covenant bonds.

This item for proprietors was not considered business income and was therefore reported elsewhere on the individual income tax return.

Inventories

Inventories consisted of goods held for sale or of raw materials and supplies that would become a part of goods held for sale. Taxpayers engaged in manufacturing, trade, or any other business (except farming) where the production, purchase, or sale of merchandise was an income-producing factor were required to use inventories in computing the gross income from their businesses. The use of inventories required that direct expenses of production, such as factory labor for a manufacturing concern, be accrued and charged against sales in the year the finished goods were sold. In accounting for the sale of goods, therefore, all such businesses were required to use the accrual method of accounting. Inventories were normally valued at actual cost or at the lower of actual cost or market price.

Farmers were required to use inventories only if they elected to use the accrual method of accounting for their profit or loss from the sale of farm products. Farm inventories consisted of livestock, harvested crops held for sale or for future use, and supplies. Growing crops and livestock on which depreciation was taken were not included in inventories. Farm inventories could be valued by special methods in addition to cost and lower of cost or market. Under the unit-livestock-price method, livestock was grouped by kind and age and all animals in each group were valued at the estimated cost of raising such animals. Under the farm-price method, each item of inventory was valued at the estimated market price, less cost of disposition. Valuing inventories by the farm-price method could result in an increase in the value of ending inventories over beginning inventories without any corresponding increase in expenses or costs.

Inventories shown as a part of the income statement in proprietorship and partnership tables were those reported by the taxpayers as a part of their computation of cost of goods sold. Those shown in the corporation tables and those shown among the partnership balance sheet items were from the companies' balance sheets. The two figures therefore differ somewhat in concept. The income statement figures represented tax accounting figures, while the balance sheet amounts were usually those shown on the businesses' own books. The items included would not generally have been different, but the methods of valuing them might have been quite different. In addition, for partnership security dealers, "inventories" of securities were deleted from the income statement tables during statistical processing, but the balance sheet figures were shown as reported by the partnership.

Material and supplies

The amount of material and supplies, a component of the cost of goods sold, was secured for proprietorships from schedules C or F. For nonfarms, it was the amount on line 5, page 1 of schedule C. For farms, it was the item "supplies purchased," line 37, part II, page 1 of schedule F (for both cash and accrual methods of accounting). For nonfarm partnerships, it was the amount reported on line 30, schedule A, Form 1065.

Merchandise purchased

Merchandise purchased (called "purchases" for partnerships) was a component of the cost of goods sold. For non-farm businesses, the sources were: (1) line 3, page 1 of schedule C, Form 1040, and (2) line 28c, schedule A, of Form 1065. For farmers, the sources were on schedule F, column c, part I, page 1, for farmers using the cash accounting method, and line 68, part V, page 2, for farmers using the accrual accounting method.

Net gain (less loss) from sales of capital assets

This was the net sum of the proprietors' short-term capital gain, the one-half of long-term capital gain includible in adjusted gross income, and the deductible portion of long-term and short-term capital losses. It included one-half of the distribution of long-term capital gain from regulated investment companies and real estate investment trusts.

This term is included in tables 2.8 and 2.9 as a source of proprietors' nonbusiness income: however, under Code Section 1231, some gains from disposals of depreciable and other business assets were treated as capital gains. This is particularly significant for farmers, for whom the sale of livestock held for draft, breeding, sporting, or dairy purposes could result in long-term capital gains.

See also the explanation under the heading "Capital gains," above.

Net gain (or loss), noncapital assets

This income for partnerships and corporations represented gains and losses from the sale or exchange of property not eligible for capital gains tax treatment. For corporations, losses computed under Code section 1231 are included; for partnerships, section 1231 gains and losses are reported by the partners on their own returns. (See "Capital gains," above.) Sales or exchanges of noncapital assets were reported by proprietors as nonbusiness income.

Net income (or deficit)

This term is used in the corporation tables to mean the difference between gross taxable receipts and the sum of cost of sales and operations and other business deductions allowable for tax purposes. Gross taxable receipts includes business receipts, taxable investment income, and certain foreign income only constructively received; it does not include tax-exempt interest. It is the inclusion of constructive foreign income and the exclusion of State and local Government interest that causes "Net income" to differ from the item, "Total receipts less total deductions."

As discussed under "Net profit," below, the concept of net income for corporations is not strictly comparable with the concepts of net profit for proprietorships and partnerships.

Net profit (or loss)

For proprietorships, net profit (or loss) represented the difference between business receipts and the sum of cost of sales and operations and other business deductions. Unlike corporate net income, defined above, proprietorship net profit did not include investment income; and salaries to owners and business-related contributions or gifts were includable elsewhere on the returns of proprietors and so are not reflected in proprietorship net profit or loss.

For partnerships, net profit (or loss) represented the difference between total receipts and the sum of cost of sales and operations and other business deductions. Total receipts included, in addition to business receipts, investment income attributable to the partnership (except capital gains and losses and gains and losses under Code section 1231 as explained under "Capital gains" and "Net gain (or loss), non-capital assets," above). Unlike corporations, the deductions for partnerships excluded both contributions or gifts and additional first-year depreciation, which were reported on the partners' returns.

In this report, the term "net profit" is used for both proprietorships and partnerships although it is not strictly comparable for the two forms of business organizations. Three differences are: (1) investment income is reflected in the partnership net profit but not in the proprietorship net profit; (2) salaries paid to the owners are a business deduction for partnerships but not for proprietorships; and (3) additional first-year depreciation is a deduction in the computation of proprietorship net profit but not in the determination of partnership net profit.

Net worth

The net worth of Small Business Corporations electing to be taxed through the shareholders, shown in this report in table 4.5, was the net sum of capital stock, paid-in or capital surplus, retained earnings (appropriated and unappropriated), and shareholders' undistributed taxable income, reduced by the cost of treasury stock. Capital stock and paid-in or capital surplus were the amounts contributed by the shareholders or by dealings in the company's stock, and retained earnings and shareholders' undistributed taxable income were the accumulated profits and losses from the company's business operations. Treasury stock (a rare item for Small Business Corporations) represented the cost of the company's stock which was repurchased and not intended for resale.

Nonfarm adjusted gross income

(See "Adjusted gross income.")

Nonqualifying dividends received

This investment-type income for partnerships represented certain corporate dividends which were includible in the income of the partnership and for which the individual partners were not entitled to an exclusion on their individual income tax returns.

Number of businesses

Number of business organizations in this report represented the number of active businesses operated as proprietorships by individuals, the number of active partnerships, and the number of active Small Business Corporations electing to be taxed through the shareholders. For corporations, the number of businesses represents the number of returns filed for active corporations, including those filed on

Form 1120S for Small Business Corporations. This total slightly understates the total number of corporations to the extent that subsidiary corporations were included in a consolidated return filed by a parent corporation.

Number of proprietorships was based on the number of schedules C and F filed with the income tax return, Form 1040, of the proprietor. When proprietors submitted (with their Form 1040) multiple schedules covering the activities of more than one business, each of these schedules was counted separately. (See also "Farm Landlords and Farm Operators" in Section 2 of this report.)

Other costs

Other costs was a component of cost of sales and operations. For nonfarm businesses, these costs were reported on line 31, schedule A, Form 1065, or line 6, page 1, of schedule C, Form 1040. For farmers, the amount was computed from schedule F, for both cash and accrual methods of accounting, as follows: farm expenses (total, part II, on page 1) less the sum of the items, labor hired, repairs and maintenance, interest, supplies purchased, taxes, insurance, rent of farm or pasture, retirement plans, amortization, and depletion. If inventories, purchases, and the other components of cost of goods sold were not reported, the entire amount was included in other costs for these statistics.

Other deductions

Other deductions comprised business expenses which were not allocable to a specific deduction item on the return form, such as administrative, general, and selling expenses; bonuses; delivery, freight, and shipping expenses. For corporations it also included all salaries and wages not deducted as a part of cost of sales and operations or some other item and certain deductions unique to life and mutual insurance companies. For corporations and partnerships, this item also included commissions, insurance, and legal and professional fees. For proprietorships the last three were shown as specific deductions.

Other employee benefit plans

(See "Employee benefit programs.")

Other income

This term is used in three proprietorship tables to mean income received by the proprietors from various sources other than their businesses. The items are not comparable in the three tables.

"Other income or loss" in table 2.7 is the net sum of all items of income or loss in adjusted gross income except the profit or loss from businesses in the industry class specified. It includes profit or loss from businesses in other industries, if any. It does not include the adjustments to income for excludible sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, and payments to a self-employed retirement plan.

"Other income (less loss)" in table 2.8 is the net sum of the proprietor's income and losses from estates and trusts, sales of noncapital assets, the one-half of capital gain distributions not reported as long-term gain, State income tax refunds, alimony, and other sources not shown as separate columns in table 2.8. It does not include adjustments to income.

"Other income (less losses and adjustments)" in table 2.9 is the difference between the farm proprietor's adjusted gross income and the net sum of the income or loss from sources shown as separate columns. It is the equivalent of "other income (less loss)" from table 2.8 plus income from pensions and annuities, minus the adjustments for sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, and payments to a self-employed retirement plan.

Other receipts

For corporations and partnerships, this item included amounts not elsewhere reported on the income statements, such as: income from minor operations; cash discounts; income from claims, license rights, and judgments; net amount earned under operating agreements; profit from commissaries; profit on prior years' collections (installment basis); profit on purchase of corporation's own bonds; recoveries of losses and bad debts previously claimed for tax purposes; refunds for cancellation of contracts; and income from sales of scrap, salvage, or waste. Dividends from domestic corporations not subject to the special deduction were also included for corporations.

Partners' capital accounts

This balance sheet item for partnerships was the partners' total equity in the business as of the end of the taxable year. It was the net sum of all contributions of capital by the partners, plus the partnership's accumulated earnings, less accumulated losses and any distributions of capital and earnings.

Partnership and Small Business Corporation net profit (less loss)

This is one of the sources of proprietors' income shown in tables 2.8 and 2.9. It was the proprietor's share of the ordinary income and losses of any partnerships in which he owned interests and of any Small Business Corporations (electing to be taxed through the shareholders) in which he owned stock. This income was included on the proprietors' returns whether or not it was actually distributed. It also included any salary or guaranteed payments for the use of capital received as a partner. The income or loss from both partnerships and Small Business Corporations excluded net long-term capital gain, and partnership income also excluded net short-term capital gain, gains and losses under Code section 1231, and dividends qualifying for the exclusion. These excluded items were reported in their respective categories on the individual partners' or shareholders' returns.

Payments to partners

Guaranteed payments which were made for services or for the use of capital where such payments were determined without regard to income of the partnership were allowed as a deduction in the computation of the partnership net profit (or loss).

Payments to self-employed retirement plans

This was an "adjustment" allowed in computing the adjusted gross incomes of self-employed proprietors and partners. It permitted the self-employed person to make, with certain restrictions, a tax-free contribution of part of his business profits to a funded plan to provide for his future retirement. The amount deductible was limited to the smaller of 10 percent of his earned income or $2500. "Earned income" meant net earnings from a trade or business in which the owner's personal services were an income-producing factor and the gains of authors, composers, and artists from the sale of their own works.

Payroll

Payroll, shown in this report for proprietorships and partnerships, was the sum of cost of labor reported in cost of sales and operations plus salaries and wages reported among the deduction items. Various kinds of contract labor not actually representing payroll, such as janitorial or secretarial services, were also included. Payments to owners or partners were excluded.

Amounts of payroll were frequently included by taxpayers in other deduction items, such as commissions, legal and professional fees, repairs, or other deduction items. Because of the difficulty of identifying such amounts, they were shown in these tables as reported by the taxpayer. Thus the amount shown for payroll is probably understated.

Pensions and annuities

This source of proprietors' nonbusiness income was that portion of pensions and annuities which was includible in adjusted gross income in the current year, which generally meant that portion not contributed by the taxpayer himself. The taxpayer (or his survivors) was allowed to recover his own contributions tax-free. This could be accomplished either by treating all receipts for the first three years as nontaxable or by prorating each year's receipts to taxable and nontaxable portions. This item in the tables was the sum of fully taxable pensions and annuities plus the taxable portion of prorated ones.

Pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, and annuity plans

(See Retirement plans.)

Purchases

(See Merchandise purchased.)

Rent (paid)

Rent paid on business property was deductible as an ordinary and necessary expense. Identifiable amounts of taxes and other expenses paid by lessees in connection with rent paid were included in their respective deduction headings. Excluded were payments in the form of crops by tenant farmers to landlords under crop-sharing agreements.

For corporations, an attempt was made to limit this deduction to only rent paid on real property. Rental of land or buildings reported in the cost of sales and operations was transferred to this deduction item. Rental of machinery and equipment was, if identifiable, shown as cost of sales and operations or "Other deductions."

Rents (net income less loss)

This item of proprietors' nonbusiness income was the net sum of profits and losses from rental property, after deducting depreciation and other expenses relating to the property.

Rents could also be business income, included in business receipts, if the taxpayer was in the business of renting the property. Thus rental income to a real estate operator was business receipts, while the same type of income from the same type of property would have been reported as rents if the taxpayer was merely holding the property for an investment. For the tables, the distinction was made on the basis of the way the taxpayer reported: if he reported the rental income on schedule C, it was treated as business income; if on schedule E, it was included in this item. (Farm property rented on crop shares was an exception; see "Farm landlords and farm operators," Section 2.)

Rents received

Rents received for the use or occupancy of property consisted of the gross amounts. Depreciation, repairs, interest, taxes, and other expenses, which were deductible from gross rents, were included in their respective deduction items. For those manufacturing, public utility, and service corporations which frequently leased, rather than sold, their products, the rental income so derived was included in business receipts, as was the rental income of partnerships if it constituted the major portion of income.

Repairs

This deduction included cost of labor and supplies and other costs necessary for incidental repairs to the property. It did not include capital expenditures which added to the property value, improvements which appreciably prolonged its life, or expenditures for restoring or replacing property, which were added to the depreciable basis of the property and recovered through depreciation.

Retirement plans

This deduction item was the employer's contributions to pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity, bond purchase, or other deferred compensation plans for their employees that were deductible under Code section 404. It did not include any payments by self-employed persons to their own retirement plans, which were reported on individual income tax returns as adjustments used in arriving at adjusted gross income.

Royalties

This income item for partnerships and corporations was the gross amount received for the use of property rights, such as patents, copyrights, and mineral rights. Expenses related to this income, such as depletion and taxes, were not deducted directly from the income but were reported among the specific deduction items.

Excluded were certain royalties received under a lease agreement on timber, coal deposits, and domestic iron ore deposits, which were allowed special tax treatment. Under elective provisions of Code section 631, the net gain or loss on such royalties were included in the computation of net gain or loss on sales or exchanges of certain business property under section 1231. If the overall result of this computation was a net gain, it was eligible for treatment as a long-term capital gain, taxable at the capital gains rates. If the overall result was a net loss, it was fully deductible in the current year as an ordinary noncapital loss.

Royalties (net income less loss)

This source of proprietors' nonbusiness income was the net sum of profits and losses from royalties after deducting depletion, depreciation, and other expenses connected with them. The royalties included income from oil, gas, and other mineral rights and from intangible assets such as patents, copyrights, and formulae. Small amounts of royalties were sometimes reported as business income, particularly by farmers and proprietors in mining industries. Some royalties on timber, coal, and domestic iron ore were treated as capital gains rather than as royalties; see "Royalties" above.

Salaries and wages

This item consists of those salaries and wages not included as a deduction for "cost of labor" in the cost of sales and operations schedule. Salaries to partners and proprietors were not included in this amount.

For corporations, salaries and wages paid to employees were included in "Other deductions," unless included in another deduction item.

Small Business Corporations

The term, "small business corporation," is used in different parts of the Code for several different kinds of companies; however, in this report the term refers only to those Small Business Corporations defined in Subchapter S of the Code that elected to be taxed through their shareholders and filed on Form 1120S. This was the type of corporation frequently referred to in tax literature as "Subchapter S corporations," "pseudo-corporations," "hybrid corporations," or "tax-option small business corporations." The characteristics of these corporations are given in section 4 of this report.

Taxable income

Taxable income for individual proprietors was adjusted gross income minus deductions and personal exemptions. For most individuals, it was the base to which the individual income tax rates were applied; i.e., the amount upon which the income tax before credits was computed.

Taxes paid

Taxes paid included the amounts reported as an ordinary and necessary business deduction as well as identifiable amounts reported as part of the cost of sales and operations. Included among the deductible taxes were ordinary State and local taxes paid or accrued during the year; social security and payroll taxes; unemployment insurance taxes; import and tariff duties; and business, license, and privilege taxes. Income and profits taxes paid to foreign countries or United States possessions were also deductible unless claimed as a credit against income tax. Not deductible were such taxes as Federal income and excess profits taxes, gift taxes, and taxes assessed against local benefits. If a business included in business receipts the excise and related taxes included in the sales price of its products, these taxes also were generally included in the deduction for taxes paid.

Total assets

Total assets were those reported in the end-of-year balance sheet in the corporations' and partnerships' books of account. Total assets were net after reduction by accumulated depreciation, amortization, and depletion, and by the reserve for bad debts. When these reserves were reported as liabilities, they were treated as reductions from the asset accounts to which they related and the totals of assets and liabilities were adjusted accordingly.

Estimates of total assets for the few returns of corporations that failed to provide balance sheet information were based on schedules in the tax return other than the balance sheet, for example, the schedules for depreciation, bad debts, and cost of goods sold; information from reference books; and relationships between income statement and balance sheet items on similar returns which had both statements and which were classified in the same industrial group. Estimates were not made for partnership returns without balance sheets; so many partnerships did not report balance sheet data (about 37 percent in 1971) that an adequate base for making estimates could not be constructed.

Total deductions

Total deductions for proprietorships consisted of (1) the deduction for cost of goods sold and (2) the ordinary and necessary business deductions from gross income. In addition, for both partnerships and corporations, total deductions also included expenses connected with investment income, and net loss from sales of noncapital assets. Total deductions for partnerships also included farm net loss and the partnership's share of net loss from other partnerships.

Total receipts

For partnerships, total receipts represented the sum of business receipts, investment income such as interest, rents, royalties, nonqualifying dividends, net gain from sale or exchange of noncapital assets, income from farms and other partnerships, and other income. For purposes of this report, total receipts did not reflect net losses from the foregoing sources.

For corporations, total receipts included the gross taxable receipts before deduction of cost of sales and operations and net losses from sales of noncapital assets. It also included nontaxable interest, but excluded all other nontaxable income recognized by the corporation.

Wages and salaries

This source of proprietors' nonbusiness income consisted of compensation received as an employee of someone else. It did not include any compensation from his own business, which would have been reported as a part of net profit for tax purposes.

The data in this report are estimates based on probability samples of the following returns: (1) Form 1040, Individual Income Tax Returns, selected at rates ranging from .05 percent to 100 percent on the basis of size of adjusted gross income, selected large income items, or proprietorship business receipts; (2) Form 1065, Partnership Returns of Income, selected at rates ranging from 2 percent to 100 percent on the basis of size of gross receipts, total income, and total assets; and (3) Form 1120, 1120F, 1120L, 1120M, and 1120S, Corporation Income Tax Returns, selected at rates ranging from 2 percent to 100 percent on the basis of size of assets and net income. The returns were selected before audit. Tentative and amended returns were excluded from the samples, since another return for the same taxpayer was subject to sampling.

Sample Plan

For each type of return, a sample was selected from the universe of returns. The return characteristics used for stratifying each population are indicated in tables 7A, 7B, and 7C along with the strata limits and the number of returns in the population and sample per stratum. In all cases, distinct sets of monetary classes—the stratum limits—are listed beneath the characteristics which apply to them. For a return to fall in a particular stratum, both conditions on a line had to be satisfied.

Sampling rates were assigned with the objective of minimizing the coefficient of variation for estimates of important characteristics. Unbounded classes of large proprietorship, partnership, and corporation returns were sampled at a rate of 100 percent.

Randomly selected sets of ending digits of the social security number were used to select the Form 1040 sample where the prescribed sampling rate per stratum determined the number of digits in each set. Employer identification number ending digits were used to select the Form 1065 and Form 1120 samples.

Duplicate returns and inactive partnership and corporation returns (those returns reporting no income or deduction items) were included in the sample but excluded from tabulations.

Method of Estimation

The total number of returns per stratum was obtained from computer and manual counts of returns processed in the IRS Service Centers. Actual weights, rounded to two decimal places, were obtained by dividing the number of returns in each population stratum by the sample count for that stratum.

For proprietorships and partnerships, the actual weights were used to derive integer weighting factors that were applied to sample returns. For example, the actual weight of proprietorships (1040 business returns) with adjusted gross income or largest source of income $30,000 under $50,000 and business receipts under $500,000 was 22.38. Therefore, 38 percent of the sample returns in this stratum received an integer weight of 23 and 62 percent, an integer weight of 22. For corporations, the actual weights were used to derive the estimates, which were then rounded to whole numbers at a later stage of processing.

Differences between the prescribed and achieved sampling rates occurred for the following reasons:

(1) Not all returns designated for the sample were found, even after followup,

(2) Social security and employer identification numbers used for selection of the sample were not distributed equally throughout each region of the United States, and

(3) If the characteristics of the return varied considerably from the criteria of the assigned sampling group, then the return was reassigned to another sample class; however, none of the returns was reassigned to a sample group with a larger weight than that in which it originally fell.

Sampling Variability

The coefficient of variation (CV) is the standard deviation of the estimate expressed as a percent of the estimate. The standard deviation when added to and subtracted from the estimate provides the computed upper and lower limits within which approximately two out of three estimates derived from similarly selected samples would be expected to fall. Coefficients of variation based on the replicate method are shown for selected estimates in each industry class for proprietorships and partnerships in tables 2.1 and 3.1. Similar tables for corporations will appear in Statistics of Income—1971, Corporation Income Tax Returns.

Coefficient of variation estimates based on a special formula are shown in tables 7D, 7E, and 7F for frequency estimates in general. Since CV's in tables 2.1 and 3.1 were computed only for industry groups, tables 7D-7F can be used to obtain measures of variability for estimated frequencies in other tables where the classification is not by industry. The CV's in tables 2.1 and 3.1 which are based on the replicate method are subject to the limitations of variability more so than the coefficients in tables 7D, 7E, and 7F.

Values in the special formula tables, therefore, may be used as an alternate means for estimating variation for frequency estimates.

Response and Other Nonsampling Errors

In transcribing and tabulating the information from the returns in the sample, additional checks were imposed to improve the quality of the resulting estimates. Incorrect or missing entries were corrected during statistical processing to make them consistent with other entries on the return or accompanying schedules.

Quality of the basic data abstracted at the processing centers was controlled by means of a continuous sampling verification system. Prior to tabulating, numerous computer tests were applied to each return record to assure that proper balance and relationship between return items were maintained.

In addition, an independent "quality assurance" review was conducted in the Statistics Division, National Office. This review consisted of an independent reprocessing of a small subsample of returns. Differences were noted and used to inform the processing centers of quality levels and to detect areas in which additional training or instructions were needed.

Finally, prior to publication, all statistics and tables were reviewed for accuracy and reasonableness, in light of provisions of tax laws, taxpayer reporting variations and limitation, economic conditions, comparability with other statistical series, and statistical techniques used in data processing.

However, the controls maintained over the selection of the sample returns, the processing of the source data and the review of the statistics did not completely eliminate the possibility of error. Also, practical operating considerations necessitated allowance of reasonable tolerances in the statistical processing of the data.

Where to Get Forms

As far as practical, we mail forms and schedules directly to you based on what you filed last year. Many people need Form 1040, Schedule E, and Form 1040 may be required in addition to Form 1040 include the following, which you may obtain from an Internal Revenue Service office and at many banks and post offices:

Schedule A for itemized deductions;
Schedule B for gross dividends and capital gains and losses in excess of $100;
Schedule C for income from a personally owned business;

Schedule D for income from the sale of equity securities;
Schedule E for income from pensions, annuities, rents, royalties, partnerships, estates, trusts, etc.;

Schedule F for income from farming;
Schedule G for income averaging;
Schedule H for health insurance credit; and Schedule R for reporting net earnings from self-employment.

Who Must File

(1) You are single, an unmarried head of household, or surviving widow(er) with a dependent child and your income was $1,700 or more ($2,300 if 65 or over).

(2) You are a married person entitled to a refund of tax paid by you or your spouse and your spouse's income was $2,300 or more ($2,900 if you or your spouse is 65 or over; $3,500 if both 65 or over).

(3) You and your spouse had the same household as your home at the close of the taxable year.

(b) No other person is entitled to claim an exemption for you or your spouse, and return, or

(c) Your spouse does not file a separate return, or

(3) You are not covered under (1) or (2) above and you had income of $600 or more.

If you had income of less than these amounts and income tax was withheld, you must file a return to get a refund.

You must also file a return and pay any tax due if you have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more. See Schedule SE.

These rules apply to all citizens or residents of the United States, including minors. However, the United States is entitled to the benefits of section 931 of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to income from sources within possessions of the United States) must file a return if he had income of $600 or more.

Where to File.—With the Internal Revenue Service, either by mail or in person, if you are an individual, or by mail or in person, if you are a partnership, or by mail or in person, if you are a corporation.

Members of Armed Forces.—A member of the Armed Forces should give his name, social security number, permanent home address, and serial number (if different from social security number).

Rounding Off to Whole Dollars.—You may show the money items on your return and schedules in whole dollars. To do this, eliminate any amount from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next higher dollar.

Deceased Taxpayers.—If a person died in 1971, or in 1972 before filing a return for 1971, the executor, administrator, or surviving wife (husband) must file a return for the decedent. An executor or administrator may file a return for the decedent's estate. If an executor or administrator has not been appointed, the survivor may file a joint return.

Advantages of a Joint Return.—Generally, it is advantageous for a married couple to file a joint return. This usually results in lower tax than filing separate returns.

How to Prepare a Joint Return.—You must include both spouses' income and deductions on the return. If you are filing a joint return, you must include both spouses' names in the return heading, list both names, including middle initials, for example: John F. and Mary L. Doe. Both must sign the return unless the husband is a serviceman serving in a combat zone.

Separate Returns.—If you are filing a separate return, you must include only your own income and deductions on the return. If you are filing a separate return, you must include only your own name in the return heading, list only your name, including middle initials, for example: John F. Doe. Only you must sign the return.

Unmarried Head of Household.—The law provides special tax rates for any person who qualifies as a head of household. See Tax Table Schedule Z and Tax Tables. Only one person may qualify for this status. One who is unmarried, legally separated, or widowed, and who has a dependent child at the end of the taxable year (including certain married individuals living apart, or (b) one who is married at the end of the year to a person who was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year. In addition, you must have furnished over half the cost of maintaining your home a household which, during the entire year, except for temporary absence, was occupied as the principal place of abode and as a member of that household by (a) any related person other than your unmarried child or stepchild (see list on page 5) for whom you are entitled to a deduction for an exemption, unless the deduction arises from a multiple support agreement, or (b) your unmarried child, grandchild, foster child, or stepchild, even though that child is not a dependent.

If you maintain a home for your father or mother, it need not be your residence. Widows and Widowers.—Under certain conditions, a taxpayer whose husband (or wife) has died during either of her two preceding taxable years may compute her tax by including only her income, exemptions, and deductions, but otherwise compute the tax as if she were filing a joint return. (See Tax Table Schedule Y and Tax Tables.) The survivor may claim the exemption for the decedent only for the year of death.

The conditions are that the taxpayer: (a) has not remarried, (b) maintains as her home a household which is the principal place of abode of one or more persons for whom she is entitled to a deduction for an exemption, and (c) was entitled to file a joint return with her husband (or his wife) for the year of death.

Special Computations

Married Status.—If you are married at the end of your taxable year, you are considered married for the entire year. If you are separated from your spouse and legally separated on or before the end of your taxable year, you are considered single for the entire year.

If your wife or husband died during the year, you are considered married for the entire year. Generally, you may then be entitled to the benefits of joint return rates for the two years following the death of your husband or wife. (See Widows and Widowers, under Special Computations, below.)

Married Individuals Living Apart.—A married individual may be considered to be unmarried if: (1) He (she) files a separate return; (2) He (she) maintains as his (her) home a household, which for more than half of the taxable year is the principal place of abode of his (her) son or daughter or stepson or stepdaughter for whom deduction for an exemption is claimed; or (3) He (she) files a separate return; (4) He (she) files a separate return; (5) He (she) files a separate return; (6) He (she) files a separate return; (7) He (she) files a separate return; (8) He (she) files a separate return; qualified physician or a registered optometrist that (a) central visual acuity did not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses, or (b) that the number of letters in the better eye with correcting lenses was not greater than 20.

Lines 7 and 10—Children, Other Dependents, and Your Wife.—Enter the number of children who lived with you during 1971.

If you claim other dependents, complete columns (a) through (f) on page 2, line 32. If dependent died or was born during year, write in column (c) D for died or B for born. Enter on line 10 the total number of dependents shown on line 32.

Each dependent claimed must meet all of the following tests:

1. Income.—Received less than $675 income. (If your child, grandchild, or other dependent is a full-time student, this limitation does not apply.)

2. Support.—Received more than half his "support" from you (or from his wife, or if a joint return is filed). See Definition of Support below.

3. Married Dependents.—Did not file a joint return with husband or wife.

4. Nationality.—Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone, or was an alien child adopted by and living with the United States citizen abroad.

5. Relationship.—(a) Was related to you (or to husband or wife if a joint return is filed) in one of the following ways:

Child*
Stepchild
Grandchild
Father
Stepfather
Mother
Stepmother
Brother
Stepbrother
Sister
Stepsister
Nephew
Niece
Grandnephew
Grandniece
Son-in-law
Daughter-in-law

(b) Was a member of your household and had your home as his principal place of abode for the entire taxable year.

*Includes your son, daughter, stepson, stepdaughter, or a child who is a member of your household if placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption or a foster child who is a member of your household for the entire year.

Definition of Support.—Support includes food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care, education, and the like. Gifts from businesses and professions.

Your share of profits from partnerships and small business corporations.

Pensions, annuities, endowments.

Supplemental annuities under the Railroad Retirement Act benefits.

Profits from the sale or exchange of real estate, securities, or other property.

Rents and royalties.

Your share of estate or trust income.

Employer unemployment benefits (S.U.B.).

Alimony, separate maintenance or support payments received from and deductible by your husband (wife).

Prizes and awards (contests, rallies, etc.).

Refunds of State and local taxes (principal amounts) if deducted in a prior year and resulted in tax benefits.

erally the amount of an item of support is the expense incurred by the one furnishing it. If an item of support is furnished for the benefit of more than one person, the amount of support attributable to such item is its fair market value. In computing the amount of support, include amounts contributed by the dependent for his own support, including amounts ordinarily expected to be received from him (for example, social security benefits).

In figuring whether you provided more than half the support of your student child, disregard amounts he received as scholarships.

Student Dependency and Exemption.—Even though your child had $675 or more income, you may claim him (her) as a dependent if he (she) is a full-time student and meets tests 2, 3, and 4 above.

To qualify as a student he (she) must have been enrolled as a full-time student at an educational institution or must have attended a full-time course of instruction at an educational institution, or be a credited agent of an educational institution or of a State or its political subdivision for part of 5 calendar months. The calendar months need not be consecutive.

The term "educational institution" means a school maintaining a regular faculty and established curriculum and offering instruction leading to a degree, diploma, certificate, or other credential. It includes primary and secondary schools, colleges, universities, normal schools, technical schools, mechanical schools, and similar institutions. Educational institutions do not include training, correspondence schools, etc.

A person is not a student if he is employed full time during the day and attends school at night.

For further information see Publication 532, Tax information for Students and Parents.

Divorced or Separated Parents.—For rules, see Publication 501, Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents.

Birth or Death of Dependent.—You may claim a full $675 exemption for a dependent who was born or died during the year. That dependent are met for the part of the year he lived.

Support by More Than One Taxpayer.—If two or more persons contributed toward the support of an individual and no one person contributed more than 50 percent, see Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration.

Examples of Income You Should Not Report

Disability retirement payments and other benefits paid by the Veterans Administration.

Dividends on veterans' insurance.

Life insurance proceeds, upon death.

Workmen's compensation, insurance, damages, etc., for injury or sickness.

Interest on certain State and municipal bonds.

Federal social security benefits.

Gifts, inheritances, bequests.

Insurance reimbursement for excess of expenses paid for normal living expenses resulting from principal residence by fire or other casualty.

butions on stock are more than $100, list payers and amounts of all dividends received in Schedule B, line 1.

Line 12—Wages, Salaries, Tips, etc.—Report the full amount of wages, salaries, tips, and other compensation received for services you performed for your employer, even though he withheld taxes and other amounts. If an amount appears on Form 1040-E, it is the amount of wages paid in 1971. In the box Other compensation paid in 1971, enter 50 percent of capital gain distributions on line 39(b).

Line 13b—Exclusion.—See Dividends Exclusion on page 11.

Line 14—Interest.—Include all interest received from banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, and other financial institutions, on tax returns.

Line 15—Credits—Payments.—Enter the amount of tax credits and payments reported to your employer. See Form 4137. Also see lines 58 and 59.

Line 16—Tax.—Find your tax in Tax Tables 1-13 if you do not itemize deductions and line 18 if you do. The standard deduction and deduction for exemptions are reflected in the Tax Tables. Figure your tax using Tax Rate Schedule A, Y, or Z, or if you itemize deductions or if line 18 is $10,000 or more.

Should You Use the Standard Deduction or Itemize Your Deductions?—One of the important decisions you must make is whether to take the standard deduction or to itemize your actual deductions for charitable contributions, medical expenses, interest, taxes, etc. Because the standard deduction varies at different income levels, it will generally be helpful to follow the instructions on your adjusted gross income (line 18).

If line 18 is less than $3,000 and your deductions are less than $1,050, you find your tax in tax tables 1-13 which give you the benefit of the standard deduction. If your deductions exceed $1,050, itemize them and figure tax on lines 46-50.

If line 18 is between $3,000 and $11,500 and your deductions are less than 13 percent of line 18, use the standard deduction. If more than 13 percent, itemize your deductions.

If line 18 is over $11,500 and your deductions are less than $1,500, itemize your deductions. If over $1,500, use the above dollar amounts by 2 to determine whether you should itemize or take the standard deduction.

Income Averaging.—It may be to your advantage to average your income if, after subtracting $3,000 from your 1971 taxable income, the balance is more than 30% of the sum of your four prior years' taxable income. Obtain Schedule G from the Internal Revenue Service office and see instructions on Form 1040-E.

Under the Income Averaging Method, for full details.

Alternative Tax.—It may be to your advantage to use the alternative tax if your net long-term capital gain exceeds your net short-term capital loss, or if you have a certificate, deduct the amount shown on it from the wages shown on Form W-2.

Maximum Tax on Earned Income.—The tax on earned taxable income is limited to a maximum rate of 60 percent for 1971. See Form 4726 for additional details.

Penalty for Failure to Pay Tax.—Generally, individuals who fail to pay any balance of tax due by the date for filing the return are subject to a penalty. The penalty is one-half percent of the amount of tax not paid for each month or part of a month that the tax is in default. This one-half percent penalty is not deductible. It is in addition to the interest of 6 percent per year on the unpaid amounts.

Line 24—Federal Income Tax Withheld.—On this line include the total income tax withheld as shown on Forms W-2 and W-2b.

Line 25—Estimated Tax Payments.—If you and your spouse filed a joint declaration of estimated tax for 1971, and if you paid the estimated tax return for the total estimated tax paid may be claimed on the separate return of either spouse, or in either event, enter both social security numbers on the separate returns.

If you and your spouse filed separate estimated tax declarations for 1971, and if you paid the estimated tax return for the total of the amounts paid on the separate declarations, also, enter both social security numbers in the spaces provided on Form 1040.

Follow the above instructions even if one spouse has died.

Penalty for Underpaying Your Tax During the Year.—Subtract the total of lines 62 through 65 from line 18. If the result is less than 80 percent (66 2/3 percent for farmers and fishermen) of an amount equal to the total tax on line 23 less the total of lines 57, 58, and 62, if so, you may be liable for a penalty unless one or more of the following exceptions apply.

If you are liable for the penalty, show the amount of the penalty on line 66 of Form 1040. If "Penalty—estimated tax," and increase line 28 or decrease line 29 accordingly.

Line 27.—If a beneficiary of a trust, you are entitled to a tax credit because of the "throwback" rule, write "Throwback credit" and show the amount in the space to the left of the entry line. Also, include it in the total on line 27.

Line 28—Balance Due.—Most individuals who are employees and their actual tax liability will be fairly close. However, you may find that your income tax withheld fell short of your actual liability and you owe an unexpected balance of tax. This is more likely to happen to you and your spouse if you have a large amount of income that will need more income tax withheld for 1972. file a new exemption certificate, Form W-4, with your employer claiming fewer exemptions or asking him to withhold additional dollar amounts. However, if you prefer, you may file a Declaration of Estimated Tax on Form 1040-ES and make installment payments of tax. For information see Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax.

Penalty for Failure to Pay Tax.—Generally, individuals who fail to pay any balance of tax due by the date for filing the return are subject to a penalty. Exemptions ($675 for Each Allowable Exemption)

Note: The deduction for exemptions has been taken into account in determining the tax shown in Tax Tables 1-13.

Lines 7 and 10—You and Your Wife.—For you—As the taxpayer, you are always entitled to at least one exemption. If you were either blind or 65 or over at the end of your taxable year, you get two exemptions. If you were blind and 65 or over at the end of your taxable year, you get three exemptions.

Age and Blindness.—The appropriate boxes on the day before your actual birthday, December 31, 1971, or the last day of your taxable year. Your age is determined on the day before your actual birthday.

Line 10.—If you get the additional exemption for age on your return for 1971.

The exemptions for age and blindness apply only to you and your spouse. You cannot claim them for your children or other dependents.

For Your Wife (Husband).—An exemption is allowed for your wife (or husband) if you are filing a joint return. If you file a separate return, you may claim her exemption only if she had no income and was not married during 1971.

Line 10.—If you are not entitled to an exemption for your wife on your return if she files a separate return. Otherwise, your wife's (husband's) exemptions are like your own—one, if she was neither blind nor 65 or over; three, if she was both blind and 65 or over.

If your spouse is a nonresident alien.—If your spouse is a nonresident alien, you may claim her (his) exemption only if she (he) had no income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer. Use Part 1, line 32, to claim exemption for a nonresident alien spouse instead of line 8.

Line 10.—If your spouse is a nonresident alien, you may claim her (his) exemption only if she (he) had no income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer. Use Part 1, line 32, to claim exemption for a nonresident alien spouse instead of line 8.

Line 10.—If your spouse is a nonresident alien, you may claim her (his) exemption only if she (he) had no income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer. Use Part 1, line 32, to claim exemption for a nonresident alien spouse instead of line 8.

question your state of health, the probability of a serious illness, or the possibility of an untimely death. In such cases, the individual may be entitled to a "reasonable accommodation" under the ADA. For example, if an individual is unable to perform his or her job because of a physical disability, the employer may be required to provide a reasonable accommodation, such as a modified work schedule or a change in job duties.

Instructions for Schedule R (Form 1040)

Agreement Income Credit. You may qualify for this credit, which is generally 10 percent of retirement income, if you received earned income in excess of $600 in each of any 10 not necessarily consecutive calendar years before the beginning of your taxable year.

The maximum amount allowed any taxpayer is $28,600 (18% \times $152,220). The maximum allowable credit on a joint return where both husband and wife have $152,220 on line B, columns A and B is $4,572.

[illegible]

The term "earned income" means wages, salaries, professional fees, etc., as well as compensation for personal services rendered. It does not include any amount you have engaged in trade or business in which you have rendered labor and capital were major income-producing factors. A reasonable allowance for compensation for the personal services you rendered, but in excess of 30 percent of your share of the net profits of a business, shall be considered as earned income.

Instructions for Schedule C (Form 1040)

If you owned a business or practiced a profession, fill in Schedule C and enter the net profit (loss) on Form 1040, line 34. If you had more than one business, or if husband and wife had separate businesses, each business should use Schedule F, Business. Farmers should use Schedule F, Income from any trade or business, subject to the social security self-employment tax, unless specifically excluded. See instructions for Form 4029 for more information. Example: Employer of Beneficiary. Employer and Waiver of Benefits. Do not file Schedule SE. Instead write "Exempt—Form 4029" in the bottom margin on the back of Form 1040. Example: Beneficiary's part business and part personal use. You can deduct the business portion but not the personal portion.

Form 1040 For instance, if only half of a businessman's car usage is for business, he can deduct only half its operating expenses.

Sales, exchanges, or involuntary conversions of certain trade or business property are to be reported on Form 4797, Supplemental Schedule of Gains and Losses.

Accounting Methods and Records.—Your return must be on the "cash method" unless you keep books of account. Otherwise, you may use the "cash method," "accrual method," or other method, such as "completed contract" or "percentage of completion." You may use any of these methods or a combination of them, provided the method or methods used properly reflect your income.

Market Realities of Community Food Bank States—All are equally dependent on income-related income or nonstable population, and all are equally dependent on the same sorts and attributes that are contributing to the problem. To determine the extent to which each source is utilized by the dependent population, the following table also appears for the relevant states. This table depicts the percentage of the dependent population that has received earned income in excess of $6,000 in each of any 30 calendar years between 1971 and 1974.

By cancelling the retirement benefits credit, your spouse (under 65) will continue to be able to claim a public pension, but if you pension from a public retirement system as retirement income. However, your spouse is under 65, and he/she is not married to you, and he/she is not a dependent child of yours, then you may be able to claim the credit.

"Cash method" means you generally show all items of taxable income actually or constructively received during the year (whether in cash, property, or services) and those amounts actually paid during the year for deductible expenses. Income is "constructively" received when it is credited to your account or set aside for you to draw upon at any time.

"Accrual method" means you report income when earned, even if not received, and deduct expenses when incurred, even if not paid within the taxable year.

Item A—Principal Business Activity and Product.—Give the one business activity that accounts for the largest percentage of gross income included in Schedule C, page 1, line 1. State the broad field of business activity as well as the product or service.

Business name and address

Purpose.—This form is designed to report farm rental income based on crops or livestock produced by the tenant, where the (owner or sublessor) does not materially participate in the operation or management of the farm. The crops or livestock, received as rents are reported as income only in the year they are converted to cash, or the equivalent, regardless of the accounting method employed to report income and expenses. Reg. 1.61-4(e) and (b).

Note: (1) Landowners (or sub-lesors) must not use this form to report cash rent received for pasture, or farm land, where the amount reported is not in excess of $100. (2) Landowners (or sub-lesors) must not use this form to report income and expenses. Reg. 1.61-4(e) and (f). (3) Tenants must not use this form to report farm income and expenses. Individuals use Schedule F, Form 1040.

section 521 (farmers' cooperatives), or

(ii) corporations to which section 931 (income from sources within possessions of the United States) applies;

(c) Mutual savings banks, cooperative banks, domestic savings and loan associations, Federal savings and loan associations, on deposits or withdrawable accounts. Dividends from these organizations must be reported as interest.

(d) Regulated investment companies, except those which are treated as a company to be taken into account as a dividend for these purposes.

(e) Certain real estate investment trusts under sections 856 to 858.

(f) Foreign corporations, including your share from a controlled foreign corporation.

Qualifying dividends are taxable dividends received from domestic corporations and not listed above. See instructions for line 6, Schedule K.

6. Interest.—Enter total interest from all sources except (a) interest exempt from tax; (b) interest on tax-free covenant bonds.

B. Royalties.—Enter net income (loss) as shown on the detailed schedule to be attached to the return.

9. Net farm profit (loss).—Enter the net farm profit (loss) from Schedule F (Form 1040). Do not include in this line any net farm profit (loss) reported in Schedule K (Form 1065).

11. Other income.—Enter any other taxable income and explain its nature in an attached schedule, except those items requiring separate computation (see general instruction L (1) through (7)) which are required to be reported in Schedule K. This includes income from annuities and insurance proceeds.

Deductions

13. Salaries and wages.—Enter all salaries and wages not included as a deduction in line 29, except salaries to partners.

14. Payments to partners.—Salaries and interest (guaranteed payments).—In this line, enter the total amount of salaries and interest paid to partners for services or the use of capital where such payments are determined without regard to the income of the partnership. Do not include distributive shares of partnership profits in line 3, Schedule K.

15. Rent.—Enter rent on business property used in the production of income, including the cost of depreciation on the dwelling occupied by any partner for personal use.

16. Interest.—Enter interest on business indebtedness. Amounts paid by a partnership to a partner for the use of capital should be entered on line 14. However, amounts paid as interest by a partnership to a partner as a result of a loan made by the partner should be entered on this line. (The limitations on deductions for unpaid interest are given in section 267.)

17. Taxes.—Enter taxes paid on business property or incurred for carrying on the business, including Federal income tax, Federal import duties and Federal excise and stamp taxes are deductible only if paid or incurred in carrying on a trade or business, or in the production or collection of income, or for the management of the property held for the production of income. Do not deduct taxes assessed against local benefits tending to increase the value of the property assessed, as for paving, etc.; Federal income taxes; Federal estate taxes; Federal gift taxes; or taxes reported in Schedule K.

18. Bad debts.—Bad debts may be deducted—(a) when they become wholly or partially worthless, or (b) by reason of a partnership filing a first return may select either method, and that method must be used consistently. A partnership may, unless permission is granted to change to the other method. Application to change must be made on Form 3115 within 180 days after the beginning of the taxable year for which it is desired to change the method. See instructions for Schedule D (Form 1065) regarding non-business debts.

19. Repairs.—Enter the cost of incidental repairs, etc., which do not add to the value or appreciably prolong the life of the property repaired. Expenditures for new buildings, machinery, or for permanent improvements or betterments are chargeable to capital accounts.

Include in this deduction the total amount of repairs from Form 4832.

20. Depreciation.—A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of property used in the production of income must be held by the taxpayer for the production of income shall be allowed as a depreciation deduction. (Section 167.) The allowance does not apply to inventories or stock-in-trade nor to land apart from the buildings thereon. Depreciation on leasehold improvements, patents, and copyrights shall be included in Schedule J.

Adjustments to basis of property.

(a) Additional first-year depreciation.—If the taxpayer elects to take an additional first-year allowance under section 179, the basis of the property must be adjusted for the amount of the deduction so claimed.

(b) Salvage value.—In computing the basis on which depreciation may be taken for personal property other than livestock, you need not take into account the salvage value of the property. If the salvage value exceeds 10 percent of the cost or other basis of the property, only the excess need be taken into account. These provisions apply to property acquired after October 16, 1962. (See section 167(f).)

Depreciation Methods

The various methods of depreciation which may be used are:

(a) Straight line.—To compute the deduction, add the cost of improvements to percent to B, the total that could be depreciated is $4,600 (20% of $23,000, limited to $4,600) × 20 percent = $920, limited to $4,600. For A (90 percent of $30,000 × 20 percent, limited to $4,000) and $600 for B (10 percent of $30,000 × 20 percent).

The total amount of additional first-year depreciation must be shown in line 1 of Schedule J, and Schedule K. Each partner in line 4, Schedule K. Each partner enters this amount, subject to the limitations in the preceding paragraph, in Part III of Schedule E (Form 1040) of his individual income tax return.

Do not deduct additional first-year depreciation on page 1 of Form 1065.

(e) New section 1250 property.—The depreciation methods may not be used except for (1) new residential rental property from which at least 80 percent of the gross rental income is derived from rental or residential units; (2) other new property placed in service after July 24, 1969, if new real property acquired after July 24, 1969, if construction, acquisition, or permanent financing arrangements under a binding written contract were entered into before July 25, 1969; and (3) new real property acquired after July 24, 1969, which may be depreciated only under the straight-line or 150 percent declining balance methods. (See section 167(l).)

(f) Used section 1250 property.—Used section 1250 property is property placed in service after July 24, 1969, with a useful life of 20 years or more, may be depreciated under the 125 percent declining balance method, in the case of used real property acquired after July 24, 1969, where construction, financing arrangements, or a binding written contract were entered into before July 25, 1969. Depreciation is limited to the 150 percent declining balance method. Other used real property acquired after July 24, 1969, may be depreciated only under the straight-line method. (See section 167(l).)

(g) Rehabilitation expenditures for low-income rental housing.—An election may be made to treat certain expenditures as allowable for rehabilitation expenditures for low-income rental housing incurred after July 24, 1969. Such depreciation may be claimed under the straight-line method using a useful life of 60 months. For details see section 167(k).

New Depreciation Rules

New depreciation rules are in effect for property placed in service after September 21, 1963, or 71-25 should use Form 4832 (Revised) and Publication 534, Tax Information on Depreciation, for details. Form 4832 (Revised) should be used for making the election and determining your depreciation deduction under the new rules.

21. Amortization.—If the partnership elects the deduction for amortization of certain expenditures relating to research and development (section 174), section 177, exploration (paid or incurred before September 13, 1966) (section 615), and development (section 616), a statement of the permanent facts should be filed with the return for each year for which a deduction is claimed for amortization of bond premium on this line but include it in line 24.

See section 169 for conditions under which the cost of certified pollution control facilities may be depreciated over a five-year period.

For details which must be furnished in the statements of election required by the preceding paragraph, consult your District Director.

22. Depletion.—If a deduction is claimed for timber depletion, attach Form T.

23(a). Retirement plans, etc.—Enter deductible contributions made by the partnership for its common-law employees under a qualified pension, profit-sharing, annuity, or bond purchase plan, during any portion of the taxable year. Although the partnership is not subject to income tax, the members are liable for income tax in their separate capacities and are taxable upon their distributions from the plan. The partnership, whether distributed or not, and each is required to include his share in his return. A partner may not claim on his separate return a distributive share of loss from a partnership to the extent of his interest in the partnership. The excess of such loss may be claimed for later years to the extent that the basis for the partner's interest is increased above zero. Each partner should be advised by the partnership of the share of income, deductions, and credits as shown in Schedule K (lines 3 to 19 inclusive).

23(b). Employee benefit programs.—Enter the amount of the partnership's contributions to non-employee benefit plans included on line 23(a). Contributions to employee benefit programs that are to be reported on this line include insurance, health and welfare programs.

24. Other deductions.—Enter any other authorized deductions for which no space is provided elsewhere on page 1 of the return, exclusive of those items requiring separate computation (see general instruction L (1) through (7)). Deductions are to be reported in Schedule K. Do not deduct losses incurred in transactions which were neither connected with the trade or business nor entered into for profit. No deduction is allowable for losses on the sale of real property, other than a class of exempt income, other than the allowable portion attributable to wholly exempt interest income. Items directly attributable to such exempt income shall be allocated to it, and items directly attributable to it, and items directly attributable to it, shall be allocated to that taxable income. If an item is attributable both to taxable income and exempt income, a reasonable proportion of it, shall be allocated to each.

A partnership receiving any exempt income other than interest, or holding any property or engaging in any activity the income from which is exempt, shall submit as a part of its return an itemized statement of the exempt income, showing each class of exempt income, and (b) the amount of exempt items allocated to each such class (the amount allocated by apportionment being shown separately).

Schedule D (Form 1065) and Form 4797.—Sales or exchanges of property.—Every sale or exchange of property, even though no gain or loss is indicated, must be reported in detail.

Schedule D (Form 1065) and Form 4797.—Sales or exchanges of property.—Every sale or exchange of property, even though no gain or loss is indicated, must be reported in detail.

Schedule D (Form 1065) and Form 4797.—Sales or exchanges of property.—Every sale or exchange of property, even though no gain or loss is indicated, must be reported in detail.

Schedule D (Form 1065) and Form 4797.—Sales or exchanges of property.—Every sale or exchange of property, even though no gain or loss is indicated, must be reported in detail.

The computation of gains and losses from sales or exchanges of (1) capital assets should be reported in Schedule D (Form 1065) and (2) property other than capital assets including the gains from disposition of sections 1251 and 1252 farm property should be made on Form 4797. Exceptions are specially allocated gains. See instructions for line 18 of Schedule K and are shown in a separate schedule attached to Form 1065. (See Schedule K instructions for line 18.)

Losses by fire, storm, shipwreck, other casualty, or theft not compensated by insurance can no longer be deducted on page 1 of Form 1065. They must be reported in line 1, Form 4797.

Schedule K—Partners' shares of income, credits, deductions, etc.—This schedule should show complete information for all the persons who were members of the partnership during the taxable year, during any portion of the taxable year. Although the partnership is not subject to income tax, the members are liable for income tax in their separate capacities and are taxable upon their distributions from the plan. The partnership, whether distributed or not, and each is required to include his share in his return. A partner may not claim on his separate return a distributive share of loss from a partnership to the extent of his interest in the partnership. The excess of such loss may be claimed for later years to the extent that the basis for the partner's interest is increased above zero. Each partner should be advised by the partnership of the share of income, deductions, and credits as shown in Schedule K (lines 3 to 19 inclusive).

Line 4.—Enter each partner's distributive share of additional first-year depreciation.

Line 6.—Enter the distributive share of dividends received from domestic corporations, to which the partner is entitled (or exclusion (section 116) on dividends) on the partner's individual income tax return. (See instruction 5.)

Line 12.—Enter each partner's distributive share of contributions paid by the partnership for the partnership's deductible year. (An itemized list of the partnership's charitable contributions must also be submitted.)

Line 13.—EXPENSE ACCOUNT ALLOWANCE.—Enter the amount of allowance means (a) amounts other than compensation received as advances or reimbursements, and (b) amounts paid by or for the partnership for expenses incurred by or on behalf of a partner, in connection with the partnership's business, charged through any type of credit card.

It does not include amounts paid for (i) the purchase of goods for resale or use in the partnership's business, or (ii) the purchase of such goods for the purchase of office supplies for the partnership, or local transportation in connection with an errand. The partnership should maintain records to substantiate travel and entertainment expenditures.

Complete this column for the 25 highest paid partners, including limited partners. To determine the partners the in-information is required for, all allowances including such expense account allowances and the partner's share of ordinary income must be added to each partner's compensation. If any partner is not compensated for any partner for whom the combined amount is less than $10,000.

Line 14.—Enter each partner's distributive share of partnership income, net of losses, which have been paid or accrued by the partnership to foreign countries or to possessions of the U.S.

Line 15.—Enter each partner's distributive share of partnership income, net of losses, which have been paid or accrued by the partnership to foreign countries or to possessions of the U.S.

Line 16.—Enter each partner's distributive share of payments by the partnership to a retirement plan on behalf of partners. Each partner should be instructed (in the Form 1040) to report his deduction for such payments made on his behalf.

Line 17.—Enter each partner's distributive share of partnership income, net of losses, which have been paid or accrued by the partnership to foreign countries or to possessions of the U.S.

A separate schedule must be attached to the return for each partner's distributive share of the following:

(a) The total of the income or gain and the total of the deduction or credit of the following items: recoveries of bad debts, losses from the sale of property (section 111), gains and losses from wagering transactions (section 165(d)), soil and water conservation expenditures (section 175), intangible drilling and development costs (section 263 (c)), depletion (section 611), and any income, gain, or loss to the partnership under section 751(b).

(b) Also, the partnership must show on this separate schedule each partner's distributive share of the partnership's farm net losses, gains from disposition of farm property recapture (Form 4797), and other items applicable to sections 1251 and 1252.

(c) For the taxable year, the number of gallons of (i) gasoline used (A) on a farm in farming purposes, and (ii) fuel in a highway vehicle, and (C) in vehicles while engaged in furnishing certain public passenger land transportation service, (ii) lubricating oil used other than in a highway motor vehicle, and (iii) gasoline used in a highway motor vehicle (A) on a farm for farming purposes, (B) in vehicles while engaged in furnishing certain public passenger land transportation service, and (C) for nontaxable uses. Each partner should attach Form 4136 to his income tax return, to claim a credit on Form 1040 for Federal tax on such gasoline, special fuels, and lubricating oil.

(d) A partner is allowed a tax credit based on his pro rata share of the partnership investment in certain depreciable property. Allocate to each partner the investment in this property by following the format in Form 3468.

When property is disposed of prior to the "life years" assigned, each partner should be instructed to report the property was purchased and sold so he may reflect in his return for the year of sale the amount by which the credit taken in a prior year or years exceeds the credit as recomputed due to the early disposition of the property. Report the disposition whether the investment in property qualifies for the credit and for other information, see Form 3468.)

Line 18.—Enter each partner's distributive share of any items of income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit subject to a special allocation under the partnership agreement which differ from the allocation of partnership income or loss generally.

A partnership that is a partner includes its distributive share of specially allocated ordinary gains or losses from another partnership in line 8, Form 4797. However, an individual partner should enter his distributive share of specially allocated ordinary gains or losses in Part III of Schedule E (Form 1040).

Line 19.—Enter each partner's distributive share of partnership income, net of losses, which have been paid or accrued by the partnership to foreign countries or to possessions of the U.S.

15(a), each partner should be cautioned to enter on Form 4625, line 1(i), only the amount from Schedule D, (Form 1040), line 15(a), to avoid overstating his tax liability. See instructions for filing returns of tax preference items, requirements, and tax computation.

Schedule M—Reconciliation of Partners' Capital Accounts.—This schedule should show what caused the changes in the partners' capital accounts during the taxable year. The total of column a of Schedule M should agree with line 19, column (A), of the return. The total of column b of the taxable year, and the total of column c of Schedule M should agree with line 19, column (D), of Schedule L for the end of the taxable year. Any difference should be adequately explained in an attached statement.

Schedule N—Computation of net earnings (or loss) from self-employment.

In determining the amount of net earnings from self-employment, exclude income and deductions from the following sources:

Interest.—Interest on bonds, debentures, notes, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness received from a corporation or by a government or political subdivision, unless received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities.

Real estate rentals.—Rentals from real estate, except rentals received in the course of a trade or business as a real estate dealer.

The following do not constitute rentals from occupancy of premises or other space: services are also rendered to the occupant, such as rooms in hotels; boarding houses; apartment houses; furnishing hotel services; tourist camps; tourist homes; or space in parking lots, warehouses, or storage areas. They are included in determining net earnings from self-employment.

Partnership with income from farming.—A partner may use the optional method of computing net earnings from self-employment from farming on his individual income tax return. See Schedule SE (Form 1040) for instructions and the computation of net earnings from self-employment from farming. In figuring the gross profits from farming, Schedule SE (Form 1040), Part II, line 6, use your share of the gross profits shown on either line 28 or line 69 of the Schedule E (Form 1040) filed with the partnership return.

Instructions for Form 1120S

U.S. Small Business Corporation Income Tax Return

General Instructions

(References to the Internal Revenue Code.)

A. Corporations required to file Form 1120S.—Every small business corporation (as defined in section 1361(c)) must file Form 1120S for the taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1972, and for each subsequent year.

B. any capital gain tax (line 31, page 1). Each shareholder is entitled to treat as a capital gain a portion of the sum of the dividends he received plus his share of the undistributed taxable income. A shareholder's portion is determined by applying to his dividend the same ratio that the amount of his dividend bears to the total dividends (actual and constructive) includable by all shareholders from the excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss (line 9(b), page 1). The amount of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss is shown on line 1378 of Form 1041, Schedule J, and the amount of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss is shown on line 1378 of Form 1041, Schedule J.

Line 8—Of the amount includable in the shareholder's taxable income as dividends from an electing small business corporation, only those that are not considered to be out of the estate of the shareholder are includable in the shareholder's taxable income. For purposes of this rule, the earnings and profits of the taxable year are deemed to be the earnings and profits of the corporation. The dividends entitled to the exclusion would include, for example, dividends paid out of accumulated earnings and profits. The amounts included on this line should be entered by the shareholders as ordinary income in Schedule E (Form 1040). Shareholders in line 13(b) of their individual income tax returns, Form 1040.

Line 9—Enter for each shareholder the sum of the dividends actually distributed to him during the taxable year, less the sum of the dividends excluded from his taxable income (line 8). The amount of the dividend exclusion (line 9) should be entered by the shareholders as ordinary income in Schedule E (Form 1040). Shareholders in line 13(b) of their individual income tax returns, Form 1040.

Line 10—Enter for each shareholder the property not of net earnings and profits for taxable years after the first taxable year for which the shareholder is a shareholder. The amount of the dividend exclusion (line 9) should be entered by the shareholders as ordinary income in Schedule E (Form 1040). Shareholders in line 13(b) of their individual income tax returns, Form 1040.

Line 11—Enter the amount of each shareholder's distributive share of tax preference items. (See instruction 30.) These amounts should be entered by the shareholders as ordinary income along with similar items of tax preference from all other sources in preparing Form 1040. The amount of the dividend exclusion (line 9) should be entered by the shareholders as ordinary income in Schedule E (Form 1040). Shareholders in line 13(b) of their individual income tax returns, Form 1040.

Investment credit.—The corporation shall allocate the investment credit to the shareholders by the type of property (new or used), life or non-life, and the type of property (real or personal). For additional information and limitations, see instructions for Form 3468.

Shareholders are allowed a tax credit on their individual returns for their allocated portion of the investment credit. The amount of the credit should be entered by the shareholders on Form 3468 for their individual returns.

See section 147-4 of the regulations for provisions relating to the tax from recomputing prior year investment credit. See Form 1041-25.

value. If a contribution carryover is included, show the amount and how the carryover was determined.

Special rule for contributions of certain property.—In the case of a charitable contribution of property, the contribution must be reduced by the sum of (1) the ordinary income and (2) in the case of certain contributions, 62½% of the long-term capital gain.

that would have resulted if the property were sold at its fair market value. The reduction for 62½% of the long-term capital gain applies to (1) contributions of tangible personal property for use by an exempt organization for a purpose or function unrelated to the basis for its exemption, and (2) contributions of any property to or for the use of certain private foundations. (Section 170(e).)

Bargain sale to a charitable organization.—If a charitable contribution deduction is allowed by reason of a sale of property to a charitable organization, the adjusted basis for determining gain from the sale is an amount which is in the same ratio to the adjusted basis as the amount realized is to the fair market value of the property.

20. Amortization.—If a deduction is claimed for amortization, attach a schedule showing: (1) A description of the expenditures being amortized; (2) date acquired, completed, or expended; (3) amount being amortized; (4) amortization deducted in prior years; (5) amortization period (number of months); (6) amortization for this year; and (7) the total amount of amortization less the amount claimed in Schedule A and elsewhere on the return.

See section 169 and regulations thereunder for conditions under which the cost of certified pollution control facilities may be amortized over a period of 60 months.

21. Depreciation.—See instructions for Schedule G.

22. Depletion.—The percentage depletion rate for oil and gas wells is 22%. Refer to section 613(b) for rates applicable to other natural deposits.

Attach Form T if a deduction is claimed for depletion of timber.

24. Pension, profit-sharing, etc. plans.—Form 2950 must be attached for a deduction being claimed for contributions to a pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus or annuity plan. This form is to be attached whether the plan is qualified or nonqualified.

25. Employee benefit programs.—Enter the amount of your contributions to employee benefit programs that are not an incidental part of a pension, Application to change the method of computing bad debts must be made on Form 3115.

17. Taxes.—Enter taxes paid or accrued during the taxable year and attach a schedule showing the type and amount of tax.

Do not include Federal income taxes; estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, or gift taxes; foreign or United States possession income taxes if a foreign tax credit is claimed; Federal taxes paid on bonds containing a tax-free covenant, or taxes not imposed upon the taxpayer. See section 164(d) for apportionment of taxes on real property between seller and purchaser.

18. Interest.—Enter business interest but do not include interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations the interest on which is wholly exempt from income tax. (Section 265.)

Mutual savings banks, building and loan associations, and cooperative banks, enter amounts paid or credited to the accounts of depositors as dividends, interest, or earnings.

See section 267 for limitation on deductions for unpaid expenses and interests in transactions between related taxpayers.

19. Contributions.—Enter contributions or gifts actually paid within the taxable year to or for the use of charitable and governmental organizations described in section 170(c).

The amount claimed may not exceed 5% of taxable income computed without regard to (1) this deduction, (2) the "special deductions" in line 29(b), (3) any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172, and (4) any capital loss carryback to the taxable year under section 1212(a)(1).

Charitable contributions in excess of the 5% limitation may not be deducted for the taxable year but may be carried over to the 5 succeeding taxable years.

Corporations on the accrual basis may elect to deduct contributions paid on or before the 15th day of the 3d month following the close of the taxable year if the contributions are authorized by the board of directors during the taxable year. A declaration, signed by an officer, must be attached to the return stating that the resolution authorizing the contributions was adopted by the board of directors.

Attach a schedule showing the name of each organization and the amount paid. If a contribution is made in property other than money, state the kind of property contributed and the method used in determining its fair market

7. Gross rents.—Enter the gross amount received for the rent of property. Deduct expenses such as repairs, interest, taxes, and depreciation in the proper lines for deductions.

9(a). Net capital gains.—Every sale or exchange of a capital asset must be reported in detail in Schedule D even though no gain or loss is indicated.

If the net long-term capital gain exceeds the net short-term capital loss or gain, compute the alternative tax on separate Schedule D to see if it produces a lesser tax.

9(b). Ordinary gain or loss.—Enter the total ordinary gain or loss from line 9, Part II, Form 4797.

10. Other income.—The attached schedule should include recoveries of bad debts deducted in prior years under the specific charge-off method. Refunds of taxes deducted in prior years should be reported here and not offset against current year's taxes.

If "other income" consists of only one item you may identify it by showing the amount caption in parentheses on line 10.

12. Compensation of officers.—Complete column 8 of Schedule E—your 25 highest paid officers. To determine the highest paid officers, add all allowances, including expense allowances, to each officer's compensation.

Expense account allowance means (1) amounts, other than compensation, received as advances or reimbursements and (2) amounts paid or for the corporation for expenses incurred by or on behalf of an officer. Column 8 does not have to be completed for any officer for whom the combined amount is less than $10,000.

This information is to be submitted by each member of an affiliated group included in a consolidated return.

For this purpose an officer is a person who is elected or appointed to office or who is designated as such in the corporation's charter or bylaws such as regular officer, chairman of the board, etc.

14. Repairs.—Enter the cost of incidental repairs, including labor, supplies, and other items, that do not add to the value or appreciably prolong the life of the property. Include in this line the total amount of repairs from Form 4832 (Revised).

15. Bad debts.—Bad debts may be treated in either of two ways—(1) as a deduction for debts that become worthless in whole or in part, or (2) as a deduction for a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. (Section 166.)

of a trade or business within the United States.

This 100% deduction does not apply if an election under section 1562 (election of multiple surtax exemptions) by a controlled group of corporations is effective for either (1) the taxable year of the domestic corporation in which the dividends are received, or (2) the taxable year of the foreign corporation out of the earnings and profits of which the dividends are paid.

[5.] Enter foreign dividends (including minimum distributions under subpart F) that are not reportable on lines 3 and 4. Exclude distributions of amounts constructively taxed in the current year or in prior years under subpart F.

[6.] Include income constructively received from controlled foreign corporations under subpart F. This amount should equal the total of amounts reported in Schedule A, line 5 of Form(s) 3646.

[7.] Include gross-up for taxes deemed paid under sections 902 and 960.

[8.] Enter only those dividends that are subject to the elective provisions of section 243(b) and are entitled to the 100% dividends-received deduction under section 243(e)(3). Corporations making this election are subject to the provisions of section 1561.

[9.] Enter only those dividends that are subject to the elective provisions of section 243(b) and are entitled to the dividends-received deduction as computed under the provisions of section 1564(b). Corporations making this election are subject to the provisions of section 1562 as modified by section 1564.

[10.] Include dividends (other than capital gain dividends) received from regulated investment companies and which are not subject to the 85% deduction; dividends from tax-exempt organizations; dividends (other than capital gain dividends) received from a real estate investment trust which, for the taxable year of the trust in which the dividends are paid, qualifies under sections 856-858; dividends not eligible for a dividends-received deduction because of the holding period of the stock or an obligation to make corresponding payments with respect to similar stock; and any other taxable dividend income not properly reported above.

6. Other interest.—Enter interest on loans, notes, mortgages, bonds, bank deposits, corporate bonds, tax refunds, etc. Do not offset interest income against interest expense.

sales and carry the same amount to line 3. Attach a schedule showing for the current and 3 preceding years: (a) Form 843, (b) cost of goods sold, (c) gross profits, (d) percentage of gross profits to gross sales, (e) amount collected, and (f) gross profit on amount collected.

2. Cost of goods sold.—The method of valuing inventories may not be changed without permission. Application for permission to change must be made on Form 3115.

A corporation electing to use the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method of valuing inventory provided in section 472 must attach Form 970 to its return for the first year that method is to be used.

Cost of operations (where inventories are not an income-determining factor).—If the amount entered on line 2 includes an amount applicable to cost of operations, attach a schedule showing (1) salaries and wages and (2) other costs in detail.

4. Dividends.—(Numbered to correspond with line numbers in Schedule C.)

[1.] Enter dividends received from domestic corporations subject to income tax and which are subject to the 85% deduction under section 243(a)(1).

Small business investment companies enter dividends received from domestic corporations subject to income tax even though a deduction is allowed for the entire amount of such dividends in line 1 of Schedule I. For dividends received from a regulated investment company, see section 854, for the amount subject to the 85% deduction.

So-called dividends or earnings received from mutual savings banks, etc., are in fact interest and should not be treated as dividends.

[2.] Enter dividends received on the preferred stock of a public utility that is subject to income tax and is allowed the deduction provided in section 247 for dividends paid.

[3.] Enter dividends received from foreign corporations and which qualify for the 85% deduction provided in section 245(a).

[4.] Enter dividends received from wholly-owned foreign subsidiaries and which are eligible for the 100% deduction provided in section 245(b).

In general, this deduction applies to dividends paid out of the earnings and profits of a foreign corporation for a taxable year during which (1) all of its outstanding stock is owned (directly or indirectly) by the domestic corporation receiving the dividends and (2) all of its gross income from all sources is effectively connected with the conduct

O. Amended return.—An error in a previously filed income tax return may be corrected by filing a Form 1120X, Form 843, or an amended Form 1120. Although the use of Form 1120X is not mandatory, IRS prefers it be used rather than a claim Form 843, or an amended Form 1120, since Form 1120X is designed to expedite processing.

P. Tax on improperly accumulated earnings.—In order to prevent accumulation of earnings and profits for the purpose of enabling shareholders to avoid the tax on individuals, section 531 provides an additional tax upon the accumulated taxable income of corporations formed or availed of for the purpose of such tax avoidance.

Q. Signature.—The return must be signed either by the president, vice president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, chief accounting officer, or by any other corporate officer (such as tax officer) who is authorized to sign.

A receiver, trustee, or assignee must sign any return that he is required to file on behalf of a corporation.

R. Total assets.—If there are no assets at the end of the taxable year, show the total assets as of the beginning of the taxable year.

S. Transfers to corporation controlled by transferor.—If a person acquires stock or securities of a corporation in exchange for property, and any gain or loss is not recognized under section 351, the transferor and transferee must file with their return for the taxable year in which the exchange is consummated, the information required by section 1.351-3 of the regulations.

T. Corporations that liquidate within one calendar month pursuant to section 333.—Such corporations should attach a computation (following the format in Revenue Procedure 65-10, C.B. 1965-1, 738) of accumulated earnings and profits including all items of income and expense accrued up to the date on which the transfer of all property is completed.

Specific Instructions

(Numbered to correspond with the line numbers on page 1 of the return.)

1. Gross receipts.—Enter gross receipts or sales from all business operations except those required to be reported in lines 4 through 10. For reporting advance payments and long-term contracts, see section 1.451-5 of the regulations.

If you use the installment method of reporting, enter on line 1 the gross profit on collections from installment determined without regard to income or deductions allocable to the life insurance department; and (2) a partial tax on the taxable income computed on Form 1120-L of the life insurance department. Enter the combined tax on line 5 of Schedule J, Form 1120. Attach Form 1120-L as a schedule and identify as such.

3. Tax from recomputing a prior year investment credit.—If property is disposed of prior to the life-years category used in computing the investment credit, the tax for the year of disposition must be increased by the difference between the credit taken (including carrybacks and carryovers) on the property and the credit that would have been allowed had the actual life been used. (See section 47(a)(4) and (5) for exceptions.) Form 4255 may be used to compute the tax.

The tax from recomputing a prior year investment credit may not be offset against the current year's investment credit.

4. Minimum tax on tax preference items.—Corporations having tax preference items must attach Form 4626, Computation of Minimum Tax, to their return whether or not the minimum tax applies.

Under the provisions of section 56, certain items of tax preference are subject to a minimum income tax. These tax preference items, after deducting a $30,000 exemption, the amount of taxes imposed for the year, and tax carryovers to the taxable year, are taxed at a 10% rate.

Items of tax preference include: (1) Excess investment interest; (2) Accelerated depreciation on real property; (3) Accelerated depreciation on personal property subject to a net lease; (4) Amortization of pollution control facilities; (5) Amortization of railroad rolling stock; (6) Reserves for losses on bad debts of financial institutions; (7) Excess percentage depletion; and (8) Capital gains.

* Applies only to personal holding companies.

useful life of 6 years or more, up to an aggregate cost of $10,000.

Controlled corporate groups must apportion this $10,000 amount among members of the group. For this purpose, section 179(d)(7) provides a special definition of controlled groups. Total additional first-year depreciation exemption. Certain controlled corporations, however, are limited to a smaller amount under the provisions of sections 1561, 1562 and 1564. (See section 1563 for definition of controlled group.)

Under the provisions of section 1561, a controlled group of corporations, with respect to a specified December 31, must divide one $25,000 surtax exemption equally among all component members of the group unless the group specifically consents to split up the $25,000 amount among all component members in accordance with an apportionment plan. See section 1561 and the regulations thereunder for the time and manner of making the consent.

For taxable years beginning in 1971, only one member of a group that has made an election under section 1562 may claim a full $25,000 surtax exemption with the others being limited to $16,667. (This $16,667 is further reduced in years 1972 through 1974 and becomes zero in 1975.) Section 1564(a)(2) provides that the component members of the controlled group must elect which member is to receive the full $25,000 and which members are to be limited to $16,667. This election may be made by attaching a statement to the return of the corporation claiming the full $25,000 surtax exemption stating that it is the corporation that the controlled group has selected to claim the $25,000 amount under the provisions of section 1564(a)(2). The statement must be signed by each member of the controlled group and must show the name, address, taxpayer identification number and taxable year of each member of the group subject to the reduced $16,667 exemption. Such other members must attach a copy of the statement to their return.

If the group elects to have each component member claim a separate surtax exemption under section 1562, each component member must pay an additional tax of 6% of the amount of its surtax exemption. If only one member of the group has any taxable income, the 6% tax does not apply. (Section 1562(b)(1)(A).)

2. Mutual savings banks conducting life insurance business.—The tax under section 594 consists of the sum of (1) a partial tax computed on Form 1120 on the taxable income of the bank

Section 179—Additional first-year depreciation allowance.—For the first year a depreciation allowance is allowable, corporations may elect to write off 20% of the cost (before adjustment for salvage value) of tangible personal property (whether new or used) with a useful life of 6 years or more, up to an aggregate cost of $10,000.

Controlled corporate groups must apportion this $10,000 amount among members of the group. For this purpose, section 179(d)(7) provides a special definition of controlled groups. Total additional first-year depreciation exemption. Certain controlled corporations, however, are limited to a smaller amount under the provisions of sections 1561, 1562 and 1564. (See section 1563 for definition of controlled group.)

Under the provisions of section 1561, a controlled group of corporations, with respect to a specified December 31, must divide one $25,000 surtax exemption equally among all component members of the group unless the group specifically consents to split up the $25,000 amount among all component members in accordance with an apportionment plan. See section 1561 and the regulations thereunder for the time and manner of making the consent.

For taxable years beginning in 1971, only one member of a group that has made an election under section 1562 may claim a full $25,000 surtax exemption with the others being limited to $16,667. (This $16,667 is further reduced in years 1972 through 1974 and becomes zero in 1975.) Section 1564(a)(2) provides that the component members of the controlled group must elect which member is to receive the full $25,000 and which members are to be limited to $16,667. This election may be made by attaching a statement to the return of the corporation claiming the full $25,000 surtax exemption stating that it is the corporation that the controlled group has selected to claim the $25,000 amount under the provisions of section 1564(a)(2). The statement must be signed by each member of the controlled group and must show the name, address, taxpayer identification number and taxable year of each member of the group subject to the reduced $16,667 exemption. Such other members must attach a copy of the statement to their return.

If the group elects to have each component member claim a separate surtax exemption under section 1562, each component member must pay an additional tax of 6% of the amount of its surtax exemption. If only one member of the group has any taxable income, the 6% tax does not apply. (Section 1562(b)(1)(A).)

2. Mutual savings banks conducting life insurance business.—The tax under section 594 consists of the sum of (1) a partial tax computed on Form 1120 on the taxable income of the bank

For taxable years beginning in 1971, only one member of a group that has made an election under section 1562 may claim a full $25,000 surtax exemption with the others being limited to $16,667. (This $16,667 is further reduced in years 1972 through 1974 and becomes zero in 1975.) Section 1564(a)(2) provides that the component members of the controlled group must elect which member is to receive the full $25,000 and which members are to be limited to $16,667. This election may be made by attaching a statement to the return of the corporation claiming the full $25,000 surtax exemption stating that it is the corporation that the controlled group has selected to claim the $25,000 amount under the provisions of section 1564(a)(2). The statement must be signed by each member of the controlled group and must show the name, address, taxpayer identification number and taxable year of each member of the group subject to the reduced $16,667 exemption. Such other members must attach a copy of the statement to their return.

If the group elects to have each component member claim a separate surtax exemption under section 1562, each component member must pay an additional tax of 6% of the amount of its surtax exemption. If only one member of the group has any taxable income, the 6% tax does not apply. (Section 1562(b)(1)(A).)

2. Mutual savings banks conducting life insurance business.—The tax under section 594 consists of the sum of (1) a partial tax computed on Form 1120 on the taxable income of the bank

Section 179—Additional first-year depreciation allowance.—For the first year a depreciation allowance is allowable, corporations may elect to write off 20% of the cost (before adjustment for salvage value) of tangible personal property (whether new or used) with a useful life of 6 years or more, up to an aggregate cost of $10,000.

Controlled corporate groups must apportion this $10,000 amount among members of the group. For this purpose, section 179(d)(7) provides a special definition of controlled groups. Total additional first-year depreciation exemption. Certain controlled corporations, however, are limited to a smaller amount under the provisions of sections 1561, 1562 and 1564. (See section 1563 for definition of controlled group.)

Under the provisions of section 1561, a controlled group of corporations, with respect to a specified December 31, must divide one $25,000 surtax exemption equally among all component members of the group unless the group specifically consents to split up the $25,000 amount among all component members in accordance with an apportionment plan. See section 1561 and the regulations thereunder for the time and manner of making the consent.

For taxable years beginning in 1971, only one member of a group that has made an election under section 1562 may claim a full $25,000 surtax exemption with the others being limited to $16,667. (This $16,667 is further reduced in years 1972 through 1974 and becomes zero in 1975.) Section 1564(a)(2) provides that the component members of the controlled group must elect which member is to receive the full $25,000 and which members are to be limited to $16,667. This election may be made by attaching a statement to the return of the corporation claiming the full $25,000 surtax exemption stating that it is the corporation that the controlled group has selected to claim the $25,000 amount under the provisions of section 1564(a)(2). The statement must be signed by each member of the controlled group and must show the name, address, taxpayer identification number and taxable year of each member of the group subject to the reduced $16,667 exemption. Such other members must attach a copy of the statement to their return.

If the group elects to have each component member claim a separate surtax exemption under section 1562, each component member must pay an additional tax of 6% of the amount of its surtax exemption. If only one member of the group has any taxable income, the 6% tax does not apply. (Section 1562(b)(1)(A).)

2. Mutual savings banks conducting life insurance business.—The tax under section 594 consists of the sum of (1) a partial tax computed on Form 1120 on the taxable income of the bank

For taxable years beginning in 1971, only one member of a group that has made an election under section 1562 may claim a full $25,000 surtax exemption with the others being limited to $16,667. (This $16,667 is further reduced in years 1972 through 1974 and becomes zero in 1975.) Section 1564(a)(2) provides that the component members of the controlled group must elect which member is to receive the full $25,000 and which members are to be limited to $16,667. This election may be made by attaching a statement to the return of the corporation claiming the full $25,000 surtax exemption stating that it is the corporation that the controlled group has selected to claim the $25,000 amount under the provisions of section 1564(a)(2). The statement must be signed by each member of the controlled group and must show the name, address, taxpayer identification number and taxable year of each member of the group subject to the reduced $16,667 exemption. Such other members must attach a copy of the statement to their return.

If the group elects to have each component member claim a separate surtax exemption under section 1562, each component member must pay an additional tax of 6% of the amount of its surtax exemption. If only one member of the group has any taxable income, the 6% tax does not apply. (Section 1562(b)(1)(A).)

2. Mutual savings banks conducting life insurance business.—The tax under section 594 consists of the sum of (1) a partial tax computed on Form 1120 on the taxable income of the bank modifications must be taken into account in determining the taxable income that must be subtracted from a net operating loss to determine the portion of such loss that will still be available to carry to a subsequent year:

(a) The special deduction provided in section 922 (Western Hemisphere trade corporations) is not allowed.

(b) The net operating loss deduction is determined without regard to the net operating loss for the loss year or any taxable year thereafter, and under certain circumstances, without regard to any portion of a net operating loss attributable to a foreign expropriation loss.

If you have a net operating loss carryback and desire a "quick refund" of taxes, file Form 1139 within 12 months after the close of the taxable year in which the net operating loss was sustained. (Section 6411.)

If a net operating loss carryback creates an unused investment credit in a preceding year, the unused credit may be carried back to the 3 preceding years, and under the provisions of section 6411, a quick refund of the taxes affected may be obtained by filing Form 1139.

29(b). Special deductions.—See Instructions for Schedule I.

Other new real property acquired after July 24, 1969, may be depreciated under the straight line or 150% declining balance methods.

Used section 1250 property.—Used residential rental property acquired after July 24, 1969, with a useful life of 20 years or more may be depreciated under the 125% declining balance method. In the case of used real property acquired before July 25, 1969, or used real property acquired after July 24, 1969, pursuant to a written contract entered into before July 25, 1969, for the acquisition of such property or for the permanent financing thereof, depreciation is limited to the 150% declining balance method. Other used real property acquired after July 24, 1969, may be depreciated under the straight line method.

Rehabilitation expenditures for low-income rental housing.—An election may be made to depreciate property attributable to rehabilitation expenditures for low-income rental housing incurred after July 24, 1969. Such depreciation may be claimed under the straight line method using a useful life of 60 months. For details, see section 167(k).

first be carried to the earliest of the 8 taxable years to which it may be carried, then to the next earliest year, etc. The portion of the loss that may be carried to each of the other 7 taxable years is the excess, if any, of the loss over the sum of the taxable income for each of the prior taxable years to which the loss may be carried. (Section 172(b).)

The term "net operating loss" means the excess of allowable deductions over gross income, computed with the following modifications under section 172(d):

(1) No net operating loss deduction is allowed.

(2) The special deduction provided in section 922 (Western Hemisphere trade corporations) is not allowed.

(3) The special deductions in line 1 of Schedule I are computed without regard to the 85% limitation provided in section 246(b). See section 1172-2 of the regulations.

(4) The special deduction allowed by section 247 (dividends paid on certain preferred stock of public utilities) is computed without regard to section 247(a)(1)(B).

As stated, the net operating loss deduction is the sum of the carryovers and carrybacks. However, the following

Tangible property other than real property.—Tangible personal property, whether new or used, may be depreciated under the straight line method or the 150% declining balance method. New tangible personal property with a useful life of 3 years or more may also be depreciated under (1) the double declining balance method; (2) the sum of the years-digits method; and (3) any other method that does not result in accumulated allowances at the end of any year (during the first two-thirds useful life of the property) greater than the total that could have been deducted if the double declining balance method had been used.

New section 1250 property.—The double declining balance and sum of the years-digits methods may not be used except for (1) new residential rental property (from which at least 80% of the gross rental income is derived from rental of residential units); (2) other new real property acquired before July 25, 1969; and (3) new real property placed in service after July 24, 1969, if construction, acquisition, or permanent financing arrangements were entered into before July 25, 1969.

profit-sharing, etc. plan included on line 24. Contributions to employee benefit programs that are to be reported on this line include insurance, health and welfare programs.

26. Other deductions.—No deduction is allowed for any amount allocable to a class of exempt income other than exempt interest income. Items directly attributable to wholly exempt income shall be allocated thereto, and items directly attributable to any class of taxable income shall be allocated to such taxable income.

If an item is indirectly attributable both to taxable income and exempt income, a reasonable proportion thereof, determined in the light of all the facts and circumstances in each case, shall be allocated to each.

Attach a statement showing (1) the amount of each class of exempt income and (2) the amount of expense items allocated to each such class. Show the amount allocated by apportionment separately.

29(a). Net operating loss deduction.—The "net operating loss deduction" is the sum of the net operating loss carryovers and carrybacks to the taxable year. (Section 172(a).)

Generally, a net operating loss may be carried back 3 years and carried over 5 years. The net operating loss must

Schedule G—Depreciation
Fill in Schedule G if a deduction is claimed for depreciation of property, leasehold improvements, patents, or copyrights. Form 4562, Depreciation, may be used as a supplement to Schedule G.

New depreciation rules.—New depreciation rules are in effect for 1971. Persons using Rev. Procs. 62-21, 65-13, or 71-25 should see Form 4832 (Revised) and Publication 534, Tax Information on Depreciation, for details. Form 4832 (Revised) should be used for making the election and determining the depreciation deduction under the new rules.

Salvage value.—Salvage value must be taken into account in determining the depreciation deduction for real property except under the declining balance method. For personal property (other than livestock) with a useful life of 3 years or more, salvage value must be taken into account to the extent it exceeds 10% of the cost or other basis of the property except under the declining balance method and the new depreciation system.

This section contains statistics for proprietorships, partnerships, Small Business Corporations, and all corporations for the 10-year period 1962–1971. Tables 9.1–9.4 present selected income and deduction items for each form of business organization, classified by industrial division. These statistics were originally published in Statistics of Income for each year, Business Income Tax Returns or Corporation Income Tax Returns. Changes in law affecting the comparability of items for any years were discussed in the volumes for those years.
